

Drink drivers on the rise

POLICE in Dorset have seen a rise on drink drivers following a month long campaign.

The annual summer drink and drug driving campaign saw 88 drivers arrested – an increase on last summer's 81 arrests.

The month-long national campaign ran from Wednesday, June 1st to Thursday, June 30th and saw every driver involved in a collision being breath tested – irrespective of whether they were suspected of drink driving or not.

Final figures show that the vast majority of drink drivers on Dorset's roads are men – with 75 men and 13 women arrested during the campaign.

Almost half of all drivers arrested – 40 of the 88 arrested – were aged under 30.

Chief Inspector Bob Nichols, Head of Dorset Police's Traffic Unit, said: "It's really disappointing to see that arrests have increased after the reduction we had seen in the previous few years.

"In the 12 months before the campaign started, there were five fatal road traffic collisions in Dorset that were attributed to drink or drugs. This accounts for a quarter of all fatal collisions during that time.

"Of the 88 arrests during the June campaign, 16 of these followed a collision.

"This just goes to show that collisions can and do happen if you drive under the influence of alcohol or drugs.

"All of the drivers arrested will, if convicted, face at least a 12 month driving ban. That's in addition to a fine of up to £5,000, up to six months in prison and a criminal record.

"For anyone who thinks it's acceptable to get behind the wheel after drinking I'd also like to offer the reminder that offenders are liable to 14 years imprisonment for causing death by careless driving while under the influence of drink or drugs."

Following last year's campaign, Dorset Police made 81 arrests for drink or drug driving – the lowest figure since 2008, when 118 drivers were arrested.

2009's campaign saw 106 drivers arrested.

"Now that the summer campaign has come to an end it doesn't mean we will stop pursuing irresponsible drivers on our roads.

"We will continue to target drink drivers and I urge the public to continue to support us with this by getting in touch if they suspect someone is driving after consuming alcohol or drugs.

"Members of the public should dial 999 if they suspect someone is driving, or is about to drive, under the influence of alcohol or drugs so that we can intercept that vehicle."

If a member of the public has information about regular drink or drug drivers, they should contact Dorset Police in confidence on 01202 or 01305 222222 to report this.

Alternatively, members of the public can call the free and anonymous Crimestoppers line on 0800 555 111.

■ WHAT do you like most about school?

I like the courses and the new skills and experiences I'm learning as well as socialising with friends. It's a really happy environment and all the teachers are really nice.

■ IS there anything you would change about school if you could?

It would have to be free school travel. Bus passes are already really expensive and are going up again.

■ WHAT is your favourite subject?

My favourite subject has to be photography learning new skills whilst researching the work of others to influence me and my work.

■ WHAT is it that interests you about photography?

I like the way that you can teach yourself different skills just by experimenting with angle, levels and editing skills. I like researching artists and responding to their work yet using my own unique styles.

■ WHAT kind of things do you like to photograph?

I like to photograph anything really. From family to landscapes to still life.

■ WHY did you choose to come to a newspaper for your work experience?

I really liked the thought of being a reporter and taking pictures for something real-life that would be published. Also it could be a possible career option in the near future.

■ WHERE do you see yourself in five years time?

In five years time I'd like to be working for a successful business earning lots of money. Ha ha.

■ WHAT would be your dream job?

My dream job would be a photographer taking photo shoot pictures for billboards or magazines.

■ WHAT would be the first thing you would buy if you won the lottery?

I'd go on a nice holiday with my boyfriend somewhere hot and relaxing where I would think about what to spend the rest on.

■ IF you were stranded on a desert island what three items would you want with you?

That is a tricky question. It would have to be my comfy bed, hair straightners (battery operated) and food.

Holiday park owners launch new website

HOLIDAY parks across the county have vowed to fight government cut-backs on tourism promotion by taking on the job themselves.

Following the recent loss of South West Tourism, the regional development agency, park owners across Dorset have got together to stop the county falling behind other UK tourism hotspots.

Despite central government cutbacks, West Dorset District Council are continuing to promote tourism through their "Visit-Dorset" website, but to help their cause the West Dorset Holiday Parks Association have developed a new website which now features more than 80 caravan and camping parks across the county.

At present, more than

by Tom Glover

20,000 people in Dorset work in tourism-related occupations and Dorset has an £800 million-plus tourism economy, but the West Dorset Holiday Parks Association feel that thousands of jobs could be at risk if parks are not pro-active in their promotion.

Martin Cox, who runs Highlands End Holiday Park in Eype and Golden Cap Holiday Park in Seatown, is a member of the West Dorset Holiday Parks Association.

He said: "Tourism in Britain has been on the rise in recent years, but it's a highly competitive industry and there are many other regions which would dearly love to woo our visitors.

"Unless we go out there and market ourselves vigorously to holiday-makers, Dorset will be playing second fiddle to other more proactive destinations."

The developing website provides listings and links to more than 80 holiday parks providing holiday homes to rent and buy, and to those with pitches for touring caravans, motorhomes and tents and is already receiving thousands of hits each month.

Members of group also intend to market themselves and the website at tourism exhibitions around the country, and by publicity in national media - especially in the run-up to the London 2012 Olympics.

"Tourism is the lifeblood of many businesses in Dorset, and supports the jobs which they provide," added Martin.

"But there is no room for complacency, and we must keep pumping out the message that Dorset is well and truly open for holiday business, and the welcome is as warm as ever.

"What you need to remember is that tourism is a major factor on the economic well-being of the area, that was shown during the foot and mouth crisis in 2001.

"Tourism has a significant impact on the whole of Dorset and a lot of service we enjoy rely on it doing well. A lot of the villages pubs and restaurants in the area would not be here if we didn't have tourists.

"I hope this website will enable holiday parks across Dorset to pull additional business in during what are difficult times. We are looking forward to a busy six weeks but we also recognise that a holiday is a luxury and is often the first thing people cut back on so at the current time any tool which can help us is vital."

Sports centre takes shape

WORK is progressing well on the new Dorchester Sports Centre and the structure of the building has now reached its full height.

Located in Coburg Road, Dorchester, the £8million centre will include a six-lane swimming pool with spectator gallery, a 60-station fitness suite, dance studio, changing village and increased car parking. It will be open to the public all day, every day.

Building work started on site in November 2010 with the centre's heavy concrete foundations, basement and pool tanks going in over the winter months.

Contractors are currently working on the steel frame and precast floors and will then clad the outside of the building.

The project is on schedule to be completed in spring 2012.

West Dorset District Council, Dorset County Council and The Thomas Hardy School are working in partnership to develop the sports complex, which is being constructed by the Leadbitter Group.

Councillor Robert Gould, Leader of West Dorset District Council, said: "We are delighted with progress on site and it is exciting to see the new centre taking shape.

"We know there is a real demand for improved swimming and fitness facilities in West Dorset and we are less than a year away from delivering what residents have asked for."

David Cook, Regional Director of Leadbitter's Southern Construction and Housing division, said: "Works have progressed well over the past couple of months with the building substructure and frame being well advanced. We have been greatly helped by the local residents' attitude and patience in bearing with us during the construction phase to date."

Dorset County Council's cabinet member for Children's Services Toni Coombs, said: "We're delighted to be working with our partners on this exciting project that will benefit all children and young people in Dorchester and the wider community. This new facility will help residents keep fit and stay healthy."

Tony Day, chairman of the project board, said: "A rewarding, major step toward the fruition of this long-awaited superb facility which will benefit both the community and the education of school students.

"In due course, the new centre, the external facilities, the wonderful artificial turf pitch, and the availability of two excellent sports halls for school and community use will be a splendid asset for the future."

West Dorset District Council is currently running a tender process to select a professional leisure company or trust to manage the new centre. Councillors will make a final decision on this in the autumn.

The current leisure centre staff will be transferred to the new management organisation when the sports centre opens.

High importance on exporting

AS you will have noticed, dear reader, there have been plenty of hard hitting stories over the past few weeks.

Newspaper closures, phone-hacking, bailouts, strikes, by-elections and the continuing rumblings of the Arab Spring have dominated headlines.

I have decided, however, to use my column to write about the visit of the Chinese Premier, an event which failed to get as many column inches as it deserved.

China is of course becoming an economic superpower. But the sad fact is that our exports to China have not correlated with its growth rate.

This can be said, also, for the other 'BRIC' countries – Brazil, India and Russia. (In 2009 we exported more to Ireland than all the BRIC countries combined.)

I'm glad to say that the situation is now changing. We are diversifying the destination of our exports, and increasing the amount we export to the new powerhouses. Since the Prime Minister's trip to China last January, British exports have increased by 20 per cent.

The visit of Premier Wen is the most recent example of how we're placing high importance on exporting our goods and skills.

During the visit, £1.4bn of trade deals were signed off by Premier Wen – and he and the Prime Minister also restated the shared goal of raising bilateral trade

by Oliver Letwin MP

to $100bn by 2015. Premier Wen also noted the importance of opening up the Chinese markets, increasing the amount of imports.

This is all very encouraging. Not only is it essential for the UK to increase its share of the Chinese market, it is also necessary that China increases the amount it imports in order to re-balance the global economy.

But trade and economics were not the sole focus of discussion.

The difficult balancing act consists of combining respectful and friendly diplomatic and trading relationships with frank discussion on basic human rights. Recent events, such as the jailing of the Chinese artist, Ai Weiwei, have added to concerns that, in China, freedoms and rights aren't accelerating at the same rate as the economy.

Unlike some of our European counterparts, the Prime Minister decided to balance trade negotiations with raising such concerns.

China is much, much bigger and more important than we are, and we have a lot to gain. But we've also got a lot to offer China, and not all of it is business. Of course we mustn't hector or lecture. But, as one of the world's two oldest democracies, we really do have to be willing to stick up for liberty. If we don't, who will?

With luck and effort, we can keep up the trading relationship – but also export more than skills and goods.

TV legend joins fossil experts at museum

SIR David Attenborough discusses the fossil with pliosaur and plesiosaurs expert Richard Forrest

LEGENDARY natural history film maker Sir David Attenborough paid a visit to the Dorset County Museum in Dorchester to formally unveil its latest exhibit - the skull of a pliosaur.

Dating back around 155-million-years, the pliosaur skull was discovered on the nearby Jurassic Coast World Heritage Site and is one of the largest and best preserved fossils of its kind ever found.

Belonging to a creature up to 18 metres in length, the skull itself is a staggering 2.4 metres long and is believed to have had the biggest bite of all time - powerful enough to break a small car in half.

The fossil bones were originally discovered by amateur collector Kevan Sheehan between 2003 and 2008 as they were washed out of a landslide on the coast in Weymouth Bay. The largest piece weighed over 80 kilos.

Kevan missed only four pieces, three of which were recovered by two other collectors. In total, the skull is 95 per cent complete.

This specimen was purchased by Dorset County Council's museums service, with support from the Heritage Lottery Fund Collecting Cultures programme and significant funding from Dorset and Devon County Councils.

The pliosaur is the most remarkable in a series of new fossil displays in Jurassic Coast museums, stretching from Budleigh Salterton in Devon to Wareham in Dorset.

Richard Edmonds, Earth Science Manager for the Jurassic Coast Team said: "It is an amazing achievement to have recovered this fossil from an eroding cliff over such a long period of time and without losing any important pieces.

"Fossil collectors have always played an essential role in the recovery of specimens important to science, and the emergence of this specimen clearly demonstrates that the approach of responsible collecting adopted on the Jurassic Coast World Heritage Site is proving effective."

Since the find was publicised in October 2009, hundreds of hours have been spent carrying out a detailed analysis and cleaning away the rock to expose the detail of the fossil underneath.

The last six months have seen an intensive programme of work involving the Jurassic Coast Team and Dorset County Museum working together to produce an

by Anita Harries

exciting, interactive display showcasing the fossil with the theme "The World's Biggest Bite."

Mounted on a specially constructed plinth that shows the jaws in an open-mouthed position, the story of the fossil is interpreted through a series of film presentations accompanied by a life-size model of a pliosaur's head. And the story is far from finished with further scientific study of the find now underway to discover how the animal lived and died, and how its bones became a living reef for encrusting animals.

The fossil has already been scanned at the University of Southampton using its high-energy, micro-focus CT scanner, and the results used to reconstruct a digital model of the entire skull revealing details of the creature's internal structure which would otherwise have remained a mystery.

The University of Bristol will use the scan data in a bid to understand just how powerful the bite may have been, whilst Portsmouth University will study the fossilisation process.

Mud associated with the bones has been sent to Plymouth University to see if any fossil plankton has been preserved.

And experts from the Natural History Museum will study rock removed from the bones in search of the bones and teeth of animals that may have hunted around the dead skeleton.

Sir David Attenborough said: "This is a magnificent specimen, impressive in the way in which it has been displayed.

"A great deal of importance is placed on fossils discovered along the Jurassic Coast and it is wonderful that such a superb specimen can be viewed in the area in which it was found.

"Too often discoveries like this find their way to London, so it is good to see that local people will have access to such an important find. The Jurassic Coast is rich in fossils, and each one is an important part of local history."

Jon Murden, Director of Dorset County Museum, said: "We are delighted to house such a world class discovery at Dorset County Museum and the Weymouth Bay pliosaur is now a fitting centrepiece in our ever-popular Jurassic Coast Gallery."

One world brought together in Dorchester

DORCHESTER'S One World Festival 2011, which celebrates diversity and multi-culturalism, took place on King's Road Playing Field.

Rescued by Dorchester BID following funding problems earlier in the year, hundreds of people went along to enjoy the weather and all the entertainment that was on offer. Various stalls clung to the perimeter of the field offering information and advice on a whole range of subjects.

by Anita Harries

Among them were the Dorset Race Equality Council, the River of Life Church, the British Red Cross, Dorchester Volunteer Centre, Dorset Youth Association, and the South West Dorset Multi-cultural Network.

■ MAYOR Tess James with the victorious kabaddi team

People queued for the opportunity to try out free meditation sessions of Sahaja Yoga, you could have your photo taken in traditional Gorkha costumes, faces painted, hands painted, or try your luck on the various tombolas and raffles - maybe winning a penguin with the Medical Foundation.

Dorchester Moose rolled up with their coconut shy, the climbing wall was climbed and the bouncy castle overloaded with bouncing children.

And Greenpeace had an interesting take on their latest campaign to persuade the toy giants Mattel to desist from destroying the rainforests by reducing the amount of packaging they use, by asking festival goers to find three chainsaw weilding Barbie dolls.

Food always played a big part in the One World Festival. As well as ice-creams and donuts, Hobos were there with their legendary longhorn beef burgers from the Bride Valley, and Yankee Pankee offered American pancakes, pretzels and shakes.

The Gorkha food stall had chicken curry and rice, momo dumplings, and an aaludam potato dish, whilst there was Chinese food aplenty courtesy of the Imperial Dragon. The Dorset Fire and Rescue Service were on hand to cool down the curries, and the Dorset Police entered into the spirit of the occasion by taking part in the tug of war and the kabaddi, a great deal of fun if not a little confusing.

With Town Crier Alistair Chisholm attempting to hold everything together, the entertainment attracted a large crowd. The Distinction Dance Company, still on a high from recent success at competition level, gave their usual excellent performances in street dance, cheerleading and bellydancing.

The award-winning Juno Bellydancers captivated the crowd, and the Dorchester Ballet and Dance Club and Grace Maxwell Dance Company completed a host of superb dance routines.

The Gorkhas from Blandford gave a wonderful display of traditional dance, whilst the ever popular Lil Dreads rapped his way round the stage before the singers of Bawhaus took over. These youngsters attend sessions at the Dorchester Youth Centre, many performing in public for the very first time - and they were very good.

Opened by the Mayor of Dorchester, Councillor Tess James, who once again took time to chat to people and join in the fun, this was a wonderful day and one we hope will be repeated next year.

Awards given for 'worth and service'

COUNCILLOR Mollie Rennie receives her award from Rotary President Pauline Camm

HER first lunchtime meeting in the county town's King's Arms Hotel, saw new President of Dorchester Rotary Club, Pauline Camm, undertake the presentation of three Paul Harris Fellowships to local people, a job she described as a tremendous honour.

Paul Harris founded Rotary International in 1905, and the Paul Harris Fellowships were established in 1957 and adapted by Rotary Clubs across the United Kingdom. These fellowships are presented by individual clubs both to their own members as well as members of the community in recognition of "worth and service".

This recognition is earned through outstanding contributions made by these individuals to many aspects of theirs and the lives of others.

The first award went to Mollie Rennie, a town and district councillor in Dorchester for many years and a lady who has been involved with countless organisations.

Well known for speaking out in support of the work carried out by the Women's Refuge, she has strived to highlight all aspects of the prevention of, and relief from, domestic violence and its consequences. She now serves as chair of the Refuge's Advisory Committee. But Mollie is a person who works hard not just as a councillor but also as a resident. She has offered her support to many organisations and charities, and recently focussed her attention on promoting and facilitating Community Planning and Partnerships.

This has benefitted rural communities as well as the town.

Pauline Camm said: "We know she values Rotary and we thank her for all she has done and continues to do."

Presented with her certificate and pin, Mollie said: "This is indeed a tremendous honour and I am immensely proud to receive this award. But you can never do one thing on your own. You need other people to help make things happen, and I am so grateful for all the help and support I have had over the years from the people of Dorchester."

Dennis Holmes has been Town Clerk of Dorchester for 24 years and was the second recipient. Along with the diligent work he has carried out in this role, he has steadily developed the town's pride in and use of the Borough Gardens.

By Anita Harries

Instrumental in obtaining the huge grant for its refurbishment and overseeing the work through to completion, he has in recent years similarly developed the use of Maumbury Rings as a venue and encouraged many organisations, including Rotary, to take advantage of this.

Together with Mollie Rennie and Alistair Chisholm, Dennis Holmes has promoted and seen through the BID, a move that has ensured the town centre has been kept alive when others are failing.

"Dennis values Rotary's input into the town and we value all that he has done. We hear rumours that he is retiring in the next year or so and wish him a long and happy retirement," said Pauline.

The final award went to Rotarian Patrick Jeffrey. Patrick has been a member of Dorchester Rotary Club since 1986, and was President from 1995-96. Despite being an extremely busy surgeon, he added to his workload in his latter years at the hospital by taking on the rather thankless and demanding managerial tasks of the entire surgical department.

Since retiring he works hard for the benefit of others as a Governor of the Hospital, and also as Chairman of Martinstown Parish Council.

A fourth Paul Harris Fellowship will be presented to Irene Calcutt for her work with the Dorchester Disabled Association.

She was unable to attend the presentation, so will receive her certificate and pin at a later date.

Helping young thespians to tread the boards

■ DORCHESTER Build Center on Great Western Road, Dorchester, is supporting future thespians of Dorset by donating £500 towards the construction of an outdoor stage at Motcombe Primary School.

The donation has enabled the school to purchase the decking that has been used for the stage floor along with the artwork for its suitably dramatic backdrop.

Clare Young, Chair of the PTA at Motcombe School, said: "The generous donation from Dorchester Build Center has enabled our pupils to literally take their first steps 'treading the boards' this summer.

"We can't wait to host our first live performance and from everyone here – the pupils, teachers and parents – we'd like to say a huge thank you to the Build Center team for helping to make our dramatic ambition a reality."

Richard Buck, branch manager at Dorchester Build Center, added: "We are thrilled to have been able to support Motcombe School in their endeavours to provide an outdoor dramatic space for pupils to enjoy – perhaps we will have helped to cultivate the next Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton right here in Dorset."

MP meets new additions at college

DORSET'S own award winning Ace Energy are the leading suppliers of solar power. Recently they have installed solar at a number of homes within Dorchester. With the average electricity bill being around £600 yearly, installing solar on your roof can reduce that bill by up to 50% and provide home owners and landlords with a healthy profit. This is due to the Feed-In Tariff scheme which pays premium rates for power generated from solar power - Dorset households on the scheme are now earning over £850 every year. The tax free, inflation-proof payouts are designed to protect the UK from ever-rising energy prices and help lower carbon emissions. You may have noticed an increase in the amount of roofs proudly showing off their solar panels recently and according to Alan Seviour, Ace Energy's MD, solar has never been more popular.

With interest rates at an all time low investment savvy householders are looking for alternative ways to earn money and solar power offers just that.

Schoolchildren take to the red

LOOK out Hollywood ..... the lovely young ladies of Damers are on their way

DAMERS First School in Dorchester have spent the last year undertaking a film project as part of their work as a School of Creativity.

During this time they covered every aspect of

by Anita Harries

film making, from storyboarding and planning through to filming, directing, producing, editing, make-up and the use of props.

Many film professionals visited the school throughout the year to talk to the children and give advice on how to create their very own films.

These included composer of film music Lee Miller, scriptwriter Craig Batty, and producer Bryony Read.

The hard work culminated in a DAFTA Night (Damers Academy of Film and Television Awards) held in the marquee on the field of the Thomas Hardy School.

Complete with a red carpet courtesy of Damers School PTA, staff, governors, parents, children and invited guests turned up for an evening of first class entertainment, many looking more than a little glamorous in a range of eveningwear from ballgowns to dinner jackets and bow ties.

It was wonderful to see how well the teachers scrubbed up. And complete with fruit juice, glasses of wine and popcorn, the audience settled down and waited for the show to begin.

The evening was compered by headmaster Phil Minns, aided by music from maestro Geof Edge. The children and their guests sang "I Wish I Knew How" to the theme tune of a very well-known review programme on the television before the serious business of the evening began.

"The children," said Mr Minns, addressing a packed marquee, "had learnt a great deal over the year including how to see things from other people's perspectives, and how to work closely together as a team."

"The results were staggering."

cations as diverse as the Nothe Fort in Weymouth and the River Frome, Dorchester South Station, Poundbury and St Peter's Church in the county town, each year group produced their own film for this record breaking premiere showing.

The foundation children came up with "Little Jim", the story of a boy's adventure in a super-sonic intergalactic space rocket. The tale of Jim's journey to the moon, via Mars and Jupiter, with a box of food and encounters with aliens, was told in words and pictures with actions by the children to help illustrate their story.

Year one created "A Magical Toy Story", of what happened when three children were left behind in school and encountered such magical delights as a sad, smelly bear, a swampy, bloopy biscuit, icky sticky blackcurrant, and a sad old dinosaur. With an underlying moral of clearing up after ourselves, it also contained the most amazing giant pencil sharpenings. Year two went on a magical journey of discovery in "A Mini Beast Adventure". Shrunk by magic pencils, the children battled through the natural habitats of spiders, dragonflies, snails and tadpoles before emerging safely at the other end.

"The Secret Soldier" came from the pens of year three. This somewhat moving tale of London evacuees in Dorchester during the war featured everything from writing letters home to integration problems with local children, spies, and being brave in the face of adversity. There was even some superb dancing to Glen Miller filmed in the wonderful setting of Kingston Maurward House. The final offering came from year four - "Shaktimaan" - a rather bizarre superhero who rescued a princess held captive on a train from some very sinister-looking villains. Absolutely brilliant. And rounded off by comical facial expressions, a battle between good and evil, and Indian dancing the Damers way.

As with every evening as prestigious as this, there was an awards ceremony to bring it to a close.

With trophies, again courtesy of the PTA, who also provided a badge for every child in the school to celebrate Damers Film Festival, were presented for outstanding contributions to the Damers Film Project before a truly wonderful evening came to an end.

The Awards:

Foundation - Lily Cheshire, Bethany Lowe, Helen Wibley; Year One - Joshua Jackson, Missy Seal, Harrison Hall; Year Two - Pat Prendergast, Henry Johnstone, Holly Janes; Year Three - Jack Bessant, Freya Hertiage Hansen, Rory Gaukroger; Year Four - Paige Sandsford, Glen Chadwick, Jamie Wasson; Outstanding Technical Support - Lucy Pickersgill; Best Original Music Score - Geof Edge; Short Film Project - Amanda Lord; Outstanding Services to DAFTA - Bryony Read and Fellow to DAFTA - Sally Limmer.

Bellissimo! Italy comes to Dorchester

■ CREATING parmesan raspato as you waited

THE sights and smells - but unfortunately not the weather - of the Mediterranean came to Dorchester over the weekend when an Italian Market came to town.

Stalls along the main shopping street saw locals and visitors alike sampling some of the finest Italy has to offer.

For those who needed an instant fix of Italian food, there was the opportunity to sample cotechino or salsiccia Italiana,

by Anita Harries

both claiming to be 100 per cent Italian pork sausage in a roll - or panini.

And you could also try a cup of parmesan raspato, cleverly prepared as you waited, or be tempted by three varieties of aranani - rice balls with either ham and mozzarella, ragu sauce, or spinach and mozzarella.

Those preferring to create their own dishes were able to purchase spaghetti, pasta, a whole range of olives, various cheeses, olive oil and sauces, Italian sausages and a variety of breads including black olive focaccia and ciabatta.

People with a sweet tooth could succumb to temptation and delight in the cakes, biscuits, and torrone, or grab themselves some of the hot drinks available.

■ ITALIAN cheeses proved very popular

Using her own experiences to help others

by Anita Harries

POUNDBURY Holistic Health has opened on Poundbury, Dorchester, and is run by award winning Cambridge Weight consultant Rose Woodward.

A former policewoman in Birmingham, she was attacked by a group of four men evicted from a night-club and left for dead, suffering extensive injuries, including a broken neck, to say nothing of the problems caused by post traumatic stress.

Desperately needing surgery to alleviate her pain and prevent permanent paralysis, if not possible death, Rose had to lose a great deal of weight before operations of any kind could be considered. And lose weight she did.

Realising the seriousness of her condition she undertook to lose the pounds by following the Cambridge Weight Loss programme.

In under a year she lost an incredible 14 stone although this steady weight loss led to even more problems. As the pounds fell away, the pain increased. Her condition had been cushioned by the extra weight she was carrying and the severity of her condition became increasingly obvious. The surgery still carried the risk of paralysis and many months in a body brace. But Rose is a fighter and her courage and perseverance eventually put her back on her feet.

Still a victim to pain, however, she was unable to go back to her job with the police so had to look elsewhere for a means of income. And where else but the very method that had assisted her weight loss and made her surgery possible.

Rose became a consultant for the Cambridge Weight Loss programme and working from her own home saw more than 2,500 people in just over four years. At times clients were passing through her hands at the rate of 400 per week. Feeling safe working within the confines of her own home, Rose slowly built up her confidence, and in 2009 won the accolade of Sponsor of the Year for all her hard work. Winning a trip to Rome as reward for her remarkable achievements, she decided that as she had helped so many start their own business it was time to spread her wings and expand.

From her initial move to a company called Flawless necessitated by the need for more room, Rose and her husband Lee decided to move to Dorchester.

Rose is now bringing the Cambridge Weight Loss programme to Poundbury and beyond.

She said: "The Cambridge Weight Loss programme follows strict medical guidelines, is carefully controlled, and people who embark on this method are very well looked after. And it is also recommended by the Diabetic Association.

"My husband lost five stone himself, and with this diet ensuring you retain your energy levels, he was able to continue with his martial arts training. My aim is to have people right across Dorset following the programme and themselves becoming consultants."

Rose does not just offer the weight loss programme. She can provide holistic therapies such as reflexology Indian head massage, hot stone therapy, aromatherapy, and hopi ear candles.

Consultant surgeons hold

■ ROSE Woodward uses a tape measure to demonstrate her waist measurement before embarking on the Cambridge Weight Loss programme aesthetic clinics, providing anti-ageing and rejuvenation treatments such as botox, fillers, teeth whitening and dermabrasion. And you can also try the wonderful Garra Rufa Dr Fish treatments to help clear up eczema, psoriasis and fungal infections.

If you want to learn more, please visit the website www.poundburyholistichealth.co.uk, or ring Rose on either 01305 753510 or 07807 419024.

And there is no need for the men to feel left out. Next door to Rose is Ego, and it's all about men!

A totally new concept, the shop offers not only designerwear but a whole host of therapy rooms to help you look and feel good. Gentlemen, too, can enjoy Indian head massage, and hopi ear candles as well as a whole range of holistic therapies and of course a weight loss clinic. Run by Rose's son Kyle, he can be contacted on either 01305 265082 or 07837 035011. Both businesses are situated in Great Cranford Street, Poundbury, Dorchester.

Fun in the sun for Weldmar

NEARLY 60 residents and friends enjoyed a barbecue in glorious sunshine at Webbers Piece, Maiden Newton, to raise money for the Weldmar Hospicecare Trust.

There were generous donations from the General Stores and Post Office, Amber Hardware and 64, the café and paper shop.

The crowds were entertained by Simon Felton's guitar playing, singing and story telling. Simon generously donated half his fee back to the funds.

Residents at the sheltered housing accommodation, which is owned by Magna Housing Association, will be holding a fish and chip supper, bingo and quiz on August 13th with all proceeds going to Weldmar.

Not a challenge for the faint hearted

THROUGHOUT the spring and summer months View From Reporter TOM GLOVER is welcoming all challenges in his column Take on Tom.

With challenges coming in thick and fast there are now just a few spots left before the summer comes to an end. If your club, group or organisation would like to be the focus of this weekly column then get in touch as soon as possible by emailing tom@pemedi.co.uk or phone 01297 446154.

This week Tom joined the BUSTINSKIN TRIATHLON CLUB for the run section of their Middle Distance race at Portland.

NOW I don't remember much from my Sports Science degree but I do recall that running a half marathon without any training was considered a bad thing.

That was the challenge that lay before me at the weekend though, and one my self-imposed "no challenge refused" policy would not let me turn down.

The run was part of a triathlon, for those of you not familiar with that idea, it's a race that combines swimming, cycling and running.

The middle distance triathlon begins with a 1.2 mile swim, followed by a 59-mile bike ride and finishing with a 13.1 mile run.

My challenger, Matt Hawker, a regular triathlete, kindly suggested I should probably only do one of the disciplines as it was a one-off attempt. As I can't swim and my bike is still suffering from a puncture it got when I was 11, the run was really the only option.

Don't get me wrong though, my running is not much better than my swimming, it's just I can't drown on a run. The truth is I haven't run anywhere, other than to the bakery, in about two years.

It wasn't an easy course either, if there is such a thing. The 13.1 miles takes you on a scenic tour of Portland, along the coast path, down rocks and up steps, past the castle and the lighthouse before finishing with a length of the causeway for good measure.

The rocky terrain was enough to slow down even the leaders of the pack at times as they negotiated loose stones, overgrown greenery and me blocking their path.

I arrived early, three hours into the race, just as the leaders were coming into the run, and introduced myself to Mark Steen the organiser of the event. He allowed me to have my MP3 player, a luxury competitors aren't allowed, and I settled into my pacemaker, a Frank Skinner audio book.

As I made my way up the hill I was overtaken by a steady stream of runners. It's fairly depressing to see the faces of people you overtook on a bicycle in Burton Bradstock, running past you an hour later when you haven't even reached the top of Portland.

On Mark's website the run is billed as a gruelling trek through the "Devil's Backyard". Now my body, even two days later, will agree with that so I understand where he is coming from but the course itself takes in some of the best coastal scenery you're ever likely to find.

I would say the views were "breathtaking" but that could have just been the running.

As I reached the halfway point I was overtaken for the 32nd time that day by a familiar face. It was Matt Hawker, the man who had decided to take advantage of my "no challenge refused" offer.

In hindsight, it's probably a good thing that my body was too tired to push him off the cliff edge but at the time it seemed a reasonable reaction. He congratulated me on making it so far and said he'd wait for me at the end. He did, and managed to have a shower and something to eat in that time as well.

The most agonising part of the journey came at the ten mile mark when I passed the finish line but had to continue going along the causeway before turning round and coming back.

I reached a delirious stage at this point where I was simultaneously crying and laughing to myself.

I had to switch my MP3 player onto some more up-tempo eighties tunes to get me through it. You know you're in a long race when you can listen to the life story of a stand-up comic and still have time for some Wham to take you through the home straight.

I finished the half marathon in three hours 30 minutes. I was pretty pleased with that time, in fact I was pretty pleased to finish full stop, but to put it into perspective the slowest runner finished in just over three hours having already done the swim and the cycle and then having got lost. Incredibly the winner, Karl Alexander, finished the whole thing in under five hours. A new course record that could probably push our View From Smart cars to the limit.

I posed for my picture with Mark to prove I'd finished and then collapsed to the floor. There was hot food on offer nearby but it was upstairs so I decided against it. Besides, I knew I'd be going home to a hero's welcome. Balloons on the door, party poppers, maybe a banner, at the very least a Sunday Roast.

I got in to find a note from my family saying they had gone out for the day and that my eldest sister had eaten my ready meal I left in the fridge.

Despite how angry this made me I collapsed on the sofa safe in the knowledge that I would shame for this in the column this week.

There is no doubt that the BustinSkin events are designed to push you to your very limits but if you're up for a challenge they don't come much tougher than this.

SOLAR SOUTHWEST: A local partnership leading to a brighter future

Nick Keeler, Solar South West

Solar South West, based at Coombe Farm between Crewkerne and Chard, was born of collaboration between two local businessmen who have been friends for nearly 30 years. Like many, they were keen to learn more about how to do their bit for the environment, whilst saving money on the ever escalating energy costs. This led to them gaining their benchmark accreditation and creating the largest solar installation in the country, in 2011. They now want to share their expertise with community groups and individuals to show them how simple and rewarding it can be to have solar energy, both financially and morally, building a better future for the next generation. Mark Wheaton of long standing transportation and warehouse company JB Wheaton & Sons and Nick Keeler, a technical services and financial expert for the water industry, decided to not be among those who just talk about the environment but get out there and do something about it.

Nick said: "Mark had always been a bit of a one for renewable energy and cost saving. We talked a long time ago about the use of water pressure and flow for generating electricity by inserting a propeller into water mains but didn't think the industry would go for that. Following the financial market crash in 2008 new and secure sources of investment were big on the agenda and then when the Government introduced the feed in tariff mechanism in 2010, we decided to exploit the useable roof and empty space at Wheaton's and tried out a 10 kilowatt solar photovoltaic array last June, to see what the data was like.

"As soon as it was installed we could see how well it worked, how simple it was to install and operate, and planning approval was a much easier prospect. People get emotional about wind turbines and you have to be in the right place but with PV it was better, much better. So the next thing was a shopping trip to Germany where they have been doing this for years. We became engrossed in the subject and read a lot of books and we were pretty sure what we wanted to do in developing the site at Wheaton's and at this stage involved Tim Noyes, a skilled electrical contractor who was used to working on commercial projects, hospitals and large agricultural installations for example.

"Mark is better on all the tariff stuff and how the exported energy works its way around the grid, I am basically a developer but learnt enough, with some help, to design the system overall, Tim had all the necessary electrical expertise (and more besides). David Tippet, another friend and a Civil Engineer completed the initial team and in the end building the system at Wheaton's was pretty much a straightforward construction project.

"Because Wheaton's provided the transport for Coombe Farm and they were already very environmentally aware as a large organic farm, we went into discussions with Philip Cook at the AH Warren Trust. By the beginning of November we were working on the design of a 1MW PV array at lower Coombe with Kevin Down and Richard Hooper and eventually we ended up with the contracting company we have now; Solar South West which is 50:50 owned between the partners of the JB Wheaton's site and the AH Warren Trust. The business generated a huge amount of interest and we began carrying out work for others outside of the shareholders!

Brecknell Willis, installation nearing completion

"The more we got into it, the more we realised how fragmented the market here is compared to Germany and the more we looked around the local area, the more things have grown by word of mouth.

"The costs of technology are coming down so although the Government have reviewed the tariffs of the large scale schemes and begun to reduce the subsidy level, it is still very possible to make an investment in solar energy and get a good return on it. This is especially the case now at the under 50kW level; domestic and small commercial projects now have exceptional levels of return and we expect the market to expand dramatically over the next 12 months.

"The technology is very robust and developing all the time, all the same we never go for the cheapest. We do however want to be very competitive in the market and will continue to use our buying power, the partnerships we have created and the on the ground experience to give a rounded good deal to our customers. We are very keen on PV and renewable energy and have invested lots in it so it is always done with due diligence and we want a system that is good for the customer in the long term, with proper warranty.

JB Wheatons 377kWp array

"Solar energy generation is here to stay, it is becoming more acceptable and commonplace every day, just like computers did. We are in a unique position; it is a rare beast that allows you to be doing something for the environment and for yourself, you are future proofing energy supply for your children. With electricity costs are going up all the time, if you could produce at least 50 per cent of what you use, think what that could mean. A common myth is that solar PV needs sunlight, while it is true it generates more on blue-sky days, it is dependent on light, even on a dull day there can be a 30 per cent generation. After only ten years, some towns in Germany are now just 2 years away from running on 100% renewable energy, proving it is doable."

Since the company set up only eight months ago, they have already worked on 20 domestic installations and are in the process of their fifth large industrial job, with Chard engineering company Brecknell Willis where there will be a 200kwp array on their new rail shop building. They are encouraging households to think of solar power as the next step in home improvement, just as conservatories were. Each installation is carefully planned to suit the individual home or business and the average sized job need only take a couple of days to fit. Issues such as listed buildings can be worked with, perhaps using a garage roof instead of the house and there are even solutions for where there was only a north facing roof available. Villages could get together and fund panels on a public building such as a school or village hall, which could then benefit everyone.

The team are planning open days to give everyone the opportunity to look around their large and smaller installations and discuss the possibilities. Solar South West may be a business but it is made up of community spirited people who believe passionately in what they are doing for everyone, not just to line their own pockets.

Lifeboats

Weymouth Lifeboat Week 2011

Weymouth's current lifeboats

Weymouth is one of the busiest Lifeboat stations on the coast, undertaking around 100 'shouts' a year, split equally between 'Ernest and Mabel' (SEVERN class Lifeboat) and 'Phyl Clare III' (Atlantic 75) covering 1330 square nautical miles. Like every Lifeboat Station in the UK and Ireland we are run and funded by the Royal National Lifeboat Institution, an organisation funded entirely through voluntary contributions.

Weymouth Lifeboat Station is currently home to two lifeboats, an all weather lifeboat by the name of 'Ernest and Mabel' and Phyl Clare III, the inshore lifeboat.

Little Fones Landscapes

With eleven years' experience and an unflinching reputation under its belt, Little Fones has become a leading name in bespoke landscaping in Dorset. Natural progression of the business has opened the doors to a commercial clientele as well as private.

If you are a new build contractor looking to transform plain yard plots into simple yet functional gardens which will instantly increase the saleability of your properties, Little Fones can tailor-make bespoke designs to specifically suit your needs. Be it a simple canvas with a healthy lawn, patio and ready-to-use flower beds for family houses, or a stylish and low-maintenance design for properties intended for young professional couples, Little Fones can create a stunning first impression for all potential buyers.

If you are an estate agent looking to revamp a tired property, what better way to increase saleability, and indeed market value, than to restore its garden to its former glory?

Whilst commercial work is a more recent venture for Little Fones, we are already working closely with estate agent, McKinlays of Dorset, who can testify to the high quality and speedy, efficient works of our landscapers, contractors and master craftsmen.

Not only is Little Fones able to create and restore beautiful gardens, but we also offer the regular maintenance of, for example, the grounds of council, housing association and privately-rented properties. Little Fones is on hand to undertake the basic yet often time consuming works such lawn maintenance and the care of plants, trees and shrubbery. As professional and competent tree surgeons affiliated with BALI and the Guild of Master Craftsmen, we are more than qualified to undertake even the most sensitive of arboriculture.

For those developers or property agents wishing to renovate or maintain numerous plots, Little Fones is delighted to offer a contractual trade discount. If in doubt, take advantage of our free consultations and estimates. Little Fones is positive that you will not be disappointed.

Still crazy after all these yearsPAUL SIMON @ Manchester Apollo
Sunday, July 3rd 2011

YOU KNOW you've made it when all you have to do receive a standing ovation is walk out on stage. But that's something Paul Simon, one of the greatest singer-songwriters of his generation, is getting used to.

After a week that began with a rather lacklustre set at Glastonbury - thanks to a throat infection - subsequently followed by a number of cancelled shows (sadly including his Dorset show in Bournemouth), you could have forgiven last Sunday's Manchester crowd for being a little wary. Not a bit of it.

And thankfully Simon was back in fine voice and delivered the goods. He opened with a dreamy 'Crazy Love, Vol II' from his biggest selling solo album, Graceland, which is celebrating its 25th anniversary.

This was the first of six tunes from the African influenced album in a setlist which focused almost exclusively on his solo career, with - somewhat surprisingly - only two numbers from his 1960s songbook of Simon & Garfunkel material.

A shame then that even with the amazing fusion of cajun, reggae, world-beat and, of course, good old fashioned pop filling the theatre, anyone that attempted to get up from their seat or - perish the thought - dance in the aisles, were leapt on by security as if they were about to rush the stage.

If the show had more of the delicate folk moments like the encore performance of 'The Sound Of Silence' - performed solo with just acoustic guitar for accompaniment - which demanded bums on seats respect, you could perhaps understand the rather draconian stance. But, as it was, 'security' did nothing but kill the atmosphere rather than make anyone feel safe.

This tour, Simon's first of the UK since 2006, is in support of new album So Beautiful Or So What. As is so often the case, it's being heralded as his "best since Graceland" and five of this new LP's songs received an outing along with a number of covers.

How strange though that Paul should choose to sing George Harrison's 'Here Comes The Sun' - on which the two duetted on Saturday Night Live back in 1976 - when so few of his own songs from that period made the cut.

And while Jimmy Cliff's 'Vietnam' segued wonderfully into Paul's very own reggae based 'Mother and Child Reunion' (itself originally recorded with Jimmy's band), his takes on Elvis' 'Mystery Train' and Chet Atkins' 'Wheels' seemed to fall by the wayside.

Even the most ardent fans of Paul's solo back catalogue must have hoped for a few more of his Sixties classics, but I guess Simon has just become bored of playing them. This is a 'solo' show after all, so why should he rehash songs he originally performed with Art Garfunkel?

Nevertheless, S&G's 'The Sound of Silence' was a true highlight - the only tune of the night that would have been in Paul's repertoire when he was plying his trade around the country's folk clubs in the mid-Sixties. You could have heard a pin drop. And it was fabulous to see Paul out front on his own, armed just with a guitar and without the musical protection of his hugely talented eight-piece band.

And the band were awesome. The lightning fast bass solo from Paul's old Graceland stalwart Bakithi Kumalo on closer 'You Can Call Me Al' was just one of many examples of the amazing proficiency of the ensemble. But it still left me wanting to see a Paul Simon concert, stripped back - one man with nothing but his voice and a guitar. Maybe some other time.

Tivo: La Resistance

ReView by Tess Bide

TEARS of laughter were running down the audience members' faces during last Saturday's performance of Logic Limited, Ltd.'s Tivo: La Resistance at Bridport's Lyric Theatre. Having come all the way from New York City, the performers certainly showed no signs of jet-lag as they wowed the audience with stunts that defied gravity and comedy that generated brilliant, genuine belly-laughter throughout the show. Billed as a top secret meeting of 'La Resistance', the audience members were ushered in and issued name tags and snacks, feeling part of the team and ready for the unexpected. The performers, Sandi Carroll, Brad Fraizer and Chris Arruda, were uproarious and bounced along with the audience's reactions and heckles with lightning-quick, witty responses. It was clear to see that the company were experts in clowning and comedy and their theatrical credits, ranging from Broadway to Cirque du Soleil, certainly explain why. At the end of the show, there wasn't a grumpy face in the crowd and the whole audience stayed to meet and have a drink with the company and eat a hot dog or two from The Lyric's kitchen.

Fancy a bedroom farce?

AFTER a stunning 'Habeas Corpus' in April, which was so well received by large audiences, Lyme Regis Dramatic Society hope to produce 'Bedroom Farce' in the last week of October. It's an excellent example of Ayckbourn at his best - a sharp observational comedy of four couples, and takes place in three bedrooms - all on stage together.

The Society are having some difficulty in finding two young(ish) actors, a male who could look under 40, and a woman who could look about 30. As with the rest of the cast, they are both good parts, and it should be a lot of fun to rehearse and perform.

If you fancy having a go, please give Fred Humphrey a call on 01297 445207 in the next week or so, as they have to be sure there is a full cast by the end of this month.

The Lyme Regis Dramatic Society rehearse about twice a week, usually Mondays and Wednesdays, from late August, but as the play is a little episodic, not everyone will be needed at every rehearsal - it's fairly flexible. The performances are from Wednesday 26th to Saturday, October 29th.

Audiences Laugh First
at Bridport Arts Centre

AUDIENCES at Bridport Arts Centre will get the chance to preview stand up comedians Ray Peacock, Ed Gamble and Gareth Richards on Thursday, July 21st before they head to the Edinburgh Fringe Festival.

Gareth Richards was 2010 Edinburgh Comedy Award best newcomer nominee for a show about how to deal with the disappointment that the world is going to continue to exist. His engaging observational comedy, inspired one-liners and quirky songs played on the Omnichord, an instrument he has rescued from the 80s, have made him a favourite on the comedy circuit. He can be heard every Saturday morning from 8am on Frank Skinner's silver Sony award winning Absolute Radio Show. He was described by Steve Bennett of Chortle as "Quirkily assured writing, from silly wordplay to melancholic self-evaluation."

Ray Peacock and Ed Gamble are coming to Bridport Arts Centre with a new live show - The Proctor and Gamble Emergency Broadcast. Ed has played some of the best gigs in the country for Comedy Company and Frank Skinner's Credit Crunch. As a solo stand up performer, Ray Peacock has performed on BBC3's Russell Howard's Good News. As an actor Ray's TV credits include, Doctor Who, Skins and The 11 O'clock Show (Channel 4).

Poetry for Pleasure

by Frank McGarry

TODAY, our thanks and condolences go to Pat Seabright of Bridport, who wrote this valedictory verse following the recent death of her dear husband.

MY GUY

Farewell my love
I'll miss you so
The years flew by
But you had to go.

Our love was true
And times were good
Memories are happy
Strong and bright.

God make my footsteps
Firm and light

Until we meet once more on high
Our spirits joined in our Lord's blue sky.

Luisa D'Amone wrote this when she lost her 'guy'.

THE COLD SPACE

I never wrote a poem for you
Because I didn't need to.

There were
No crashing waves or rocking world.
No avalanche or
Drowning cries for help.

No blinding flash or Tornado sweeping my house.
No powerful electrical storm.

No looking glass offering a new world view or Promise of a new life.

Instead you were my Underground heating and Soothing summer sun.
An honest mirror.
My heart expander.

Upholder of the peace.
Smoother of my furrowed brow,

Silent bold dragon slayer,
Emerald bearer,

Chaser of the dark and a Prince so Charming to this sleeping one

I didn't notice you come
Or quietly slip away.

Until now.

I feel suspended,
A growing ache and

The cold space
Where you once lay.

A third lady who loved and lost was Lynne Potter, who wrote this.

IF EVER

One day
I built a wall

its stones were heavy with the tears I cried

as one by one I set them round about me shielded from the world's pitying eye containing all the storm of my despair hidden within I nursed my pain
a life-time of grieving stretching ahead.

Until one day
a ray of sunlight percolated through the wall of misery and I thought if ever heart-ache causes much less pain
if ever I wake up and do not think first of my loss if ever I can feel the joy of laughter, not the guilt then I could build a life within my wall.

Then
one day
escaping through the wall's chink of light
I looked up at the sun and felt the warmth
I worked and smiled and played, I gazed around and saw my life was on the outside looking in at all the sadness that was always there when ever it was needed to remember.

Botanical Art students show at Upwey Open Gardens

DELICATE | Student Jane Hall at work

KINGSTON Maurward College Botanical Art students will be showing their creative skills to the public this weekend (July 9th and 10th).

The exhibition entitled 'Unfurling', takes place at the Old School Hall, a venue often used by artists and crafts people.

Open Gardens is a great favourite as the charm of Dorset Gardens is at its horticultural best and plant and garden lovers will be inspired.

Band's busy start to summer season

THREE engagements within a week have given the Lyme Regis Town Band a busy start to their summer season. Playing to appreciative audiences at Pecorama in Beer and Lyme's newly refurbished shelters on Marine Parade, the many weeks of practice and preparation clearly provided great enjoyment for their audiences.

Pecorama was a first for the band, playing as part of the Royal British Legion centenary celebrations and the unveiling of a plaque to mark this event. The band played a varied programme to suit all tastes, with the audience having their moment in the limelight in Eddie Grant's lively song 'Gimme Hope Joanna'. Several band members took the miniature train to the unveiling of the centenary plaque, providing impromptu music along the way!

As part of the opening celebrations of the Marine Parade shelters, the band gave a short concert on Saturday afternoon. Members were very impressed with the new facilities and Band Secretary Gilly Warr commented, 'we are delighted with the improvements which have taken place since last summer. The band would like to thank the Town Council and all who were involved in this project, which is a greatly improved setting for our summer concerts'.

On Sunday afternoon, the band played the first of their 'Music by the Sea' concerts. An enjoyable feature was the first open-air appearance of the Training Band, formed earlier this year under the guidance of band-members Nikki and Jane Herbert. Under Nikki's direction, they played three popular pieces while the band took a break, with the audience clearly appreciating their effort and skills.

'Music by the Sea' concerts continue throughout July and August each Tuesday at 8 o'clock, with additional concerts on several Sunday afternoons, starting at 2.30. During the season, thousands of holidaymakers will be enjoying the band's music and sponsorship is still available for local firms to increase their business through advertising at these concerts. Full details of events and sponsorship can be found on the band's website.

Based on a fake trailer made for Grindhouse by Quentin Tarantino and Robert Rodriguez, Hobo With A Shotgun tells the story of a vigilante homeless man who pulls into a new city and finds himself trapped in urban chaos, a city where crime rules and where the city's crime boss reigns. Seeing an urban landscape filled with armed robbers, corrupt cops, abused prostitutes and even a pedophile Santa, the Hobo goes about bringing justice to the city the best way he knows how - with a 20-gauge shotgun. Mayhem ensues when he tries to make things better for the future generation. Street justice will indeed prevail.

CELL 211 <sup>18</sup>

Cell 211 tells the story of two men on different sides of a prison riot - the inmate leading the rebellion and the young guard trapped in the revolt, who poses as a prisoner in a desperate attempt to survive the ordeal.

TREACLE JR <sup>15</sup>

Tom is forty. He walks out one day, rather abruptly, on his wife and baby boy and his seemingly happy life. He finds himself living on the streets of London. One night alone in a park he is mistaken for a gay man and is set upon by a gang of violent thugs. In A&E the next day Tom meets Aidan, the happiest, fast-talking individual you are ever likely to meet, the complete opposite of Tom. Too polite, or too weak to ask him to leave him alone Tom tries to get away from this child-like man but with little joy, Aidan sticks to Tom like glue. Tom reluctantly becomes involved in Aidan's life and he quickly realises that Aidan has problems too. Aidan's 'girlfriend' Linda verbally and physically abuses him on a regular basis. Will Tom overcome his own problems in order to help his new 'friend'? Will Tom ever make it back home - and why exactly did Tom leave home in the first place?

Sing Out On Saturday with Sammy Hurden

B SHARP has many different aspects to its projects but recently singing is one of the big things, and a new workshop is being offered in Lyme Regis.

The workshop, taking place this Saturday at the Masonic Hall from 10.30am-12.30pm, will be a high-energy morning to get voices going with B Sharp music leader Sammy Hurden. Sammy will be working on songs and harmonies to listen up and explore participants voices. The workshop is for young people aged 11-16 (or up to 25 as a trainee).

Sammy will be working with B Sharp and John K Miles on the Coastal Voices Commission and Hear Here Project.

B Sharp project manager Fran

Williams said "we welcome all young people who would like to sing as part of a group or as soloists. We are also looking for new trainees aged between 16-25 who have an interest in instrumental and/or vocal teaching to work alongside Sammy and John."

Sammy Hurden is a songwriter and workshop leader with many years experience. Her piece "The Calling" was performed at The Albert Hall by Somerset County Youth Choir. She recently arranged and performed on P J Harvey's album "Let England Shake".

Howzat for cricket club's first beer festival

North Perrott Cricket Club which is holding its first beer festival on Saturday, July 23rd

NORTH Perrott Cricket Club has come up with something special for its first beer festival that's being held at its Willis Lane ground, which has the reputation as one of the most picturesque in Somerset.

Palmers brewery in Bridport has produced a commemorative ale called 'Keg B4 Wicket' for the festival which takes place on Saturday, July 23rd from 4.00 pm to midnight. The special ale should be a big hit at the festival which will feature a choice of 24 specialist beers and eight ciders, many of which have been sponsored by local businesses and individuals. Admission price of £5 includes a souvenir glass and a free pint.

There will be live music from bands including The Beasties from London, plus a hog roast and barbecue. "Everything is being done to ensure that our first beer festival is the cricketing equivalent of hitting a six," says Derek Boles, organising committee chairman. "We are hoping to attract support from people throughout the West Country, as well as real ale enthusiasts."

At the heart of the festival is the club pavilion, opened in 2000, after a fund-raising campaign that raised £225,000 to build it, an incredible achievement for a small village with a big heart.

Somerset County Cricket Club has staged many of its 2nd X1 championship matches at North Perrott which is now the home venue for Somerset County Ladies X 1 matches.

Latest offering from Dorchester Drama Club

THE Lark, the trial of Joan of Arc, written by Jean Anouilh in 1953 and adapted by Christopher Fry, tells the story of the trial, condemnation and execution of Joan in two acts, and is set in the court at Rouen during the spring of 1431. A hugely ambitious project tackled with their usual enthusiasm and determination by the members of Dorchester Drama Club, this very demanding play tells the story of Joan of Arc in flashbacks, centering on those commissioned with presiding over her trial and eventual death by burning at the stake. Brilliantly directed by Trevor Williams, it takes the audience through the life of Joan from the voices urging her to save France to her relieving Orleans from the hands of the English, being sold to those she defeated for £10,000, standing trial at Rouen, and eventually being burned as a witch and heretic in the public square. And all this in the wonderful setting of the Roman Town House in Dorchester.

The incredibly challenging role of Joan of Arc was undertaken by Lorna Moss, a talented young actress who managed to juggle learning her lines with sitting her A-levels, and she was superb. Still with the looks of an innocent teenager she gave a belief to the part that was both naive and yet with a commitment that belied her tender years. Trevor Williams himself played Beauchamp, the Earl of Essex, cunning and devious throughout, whilst the ineffectual and somewhat hard-up Dauphin, Charles, fell to Jonny White. His dealings with the trifling matters of the French court whilst continually playing cup and ball were quite delightful. And the play was not without touches of humour. The baiting of the vain, self-opinionated Robert de Beaudricourt, a role David Lucas amply filled, by Joan herself was one of those magical moments that helped relieve the seriousness of the situation. And the magnificent Lee Stroud, this time cast as Cauchon, Bishop of Beauvais, was as impressive as ever. An overbearing character whose one aim was to make Joan recant her ways and confess her visions were no more than fantasies and her voices non-existent, Lee was both masterful and at times persuasive, but amazing throughout. And the burning of Joan at the stake, bringing the play to an end, was both clever and effective.

Every member of Dorchester Drama Club who took part in The Lark deserves heaps of praise. Battling not only a very intense play, but the weather as well, they carried on with the professionalism we now expect from their productions. The rain necessitated a move indoors during the interval, but this was carried out efficiently and detracted in no way from the amazing sets they had created. In fact the interior of the Roman Town House added a somewhat sinister element to the court room surroundings and gave yet another touch of authenticity to the play. Well done one and all. Their next production will be Guards! Guards! by Terry Pratchett, at the Corn Exchange, Dorchester from November 10-12th 2011. So make a note in your diaries.

Hemstock festival bigger and better than ever

FOLLOWING the success of Hemstock '07, the team are back, aiming to make Hemstock bigger and better on September 17th.

This festival set on private land within the stunning rolling hills and lush countryside of Dorset is about providing the very best in new, progressive music, local delicacies, comedy and literature.

Hemstock is a non-profit organisation with all proceeds raised going to support Prostate Cancer Research and Mondo Challenge (a charity which focuses on providing schools and educative grants to remote areas of India).

From midday organisers intend to cook up a musical storm on the main stage by fusing eclectic flavours from Electro Swing, Jazz, Hip-Hop, Rock n Roll, Blues, Folk, Roots and Reggae.

As well as musicians and tents there will be stand up comedy, recitals from well known poets and authors infused with scrumptious local foods and cider.

All this take us right up to the grand finale, the headline act, followed by an outstanding fireworks display over the festival site.

This year's headliners are The Correspondents - Mr Bruce and Chuckles, pictured below - who collaborate to revamp vintage sounds for the modern ear.

Resuscitating sampled relics with squelchy synths over dusty drum loops they've depicted the trials and errors of Love, Lust and Loss over a foot-tapping toe curling amalgamation of Electro, Drum 'n' Bass, Swing and Boogie Woogie.

Starting out in November 2007, old friends Mr Bruce and Chuckles, returned to London after a firm schooling at their respective Universities.

In Leeds, Mr Chuckles had been tinkering with the sounds of Hip Hop, Jazz and Dance music for several years, meanwhile further north in Edinburgh Mr Bruce exerted his vocal dexterity over Drum 'n' Bass, Breaks & Funk.

The unlikely pair cut their teeth at a few parties and decided to cement the live performance relationship in their makeshift recording studio. Since then tracks have been recorded, stages have been stomped and knees have hit nipples.

After their set the party will continue, with DJs dropping some of the most cutting edge sounds around.

Camp Bestival just weeks away

...and there's still a few tickets left for the Lulworth festival

Blurring the lines between the Great British summer holiday and a fun-filled festival frolic, the multi-award winning Camp Bestival returns to Dorset's idyllic Jurassic coast in just a few weeks for the fourth annual event, set in the enchanting surrounds of Lulworth Castle, from July 28th to 31st.

Spread across the Castle Field, Kids Garden, Big Top, Bollywood, Black Dahlia, East Lulworth Literary Institute, Freestyle Sports Park and more, this year will be even more jam-packed with entertainment, from stellar musical morsels and cultural delights to mind-melting sideshow attractions and lashings of family fun, including over 100 Free Things For Kids To Do. With plush camping facilities, hot showers and picnic areas plus a world of fabulous food concessions and free entry for kids under 10, it's a unique start to the summer holidays and the ultimate family experience.

For the first time the festival is set to open on the Thursday night - a change that the organisers said was a popular request from past events. You'll need to purchase a Thursday Camping Ticket, which are on sale in addition to your normal Weekend Camping ticket from the usual outlets. More info is available on www.campbestival.net. All the campsites will be open from midday on Thursday, July 28th, with Car Parks open from 10am.

Music | Fronted by one of the world's most iconic pop stars, Blondie are the first headliners out of the bag for Camp Bestival 2011 topping the bill on Friday night. With an almost endless canon of chart storming hits including 'Rapture', 'Hanging on the Telephone', 'Heart of Glass' and 'Maria' spanning their 30 year career, Blondie will, without doubt, be the sing-a-long highlight of the weekend.

Mark Ronson headlines with The Business Intl. on Saturday

Mark Ronson and The Business Intl., who are currently riding a wave of love for the acclaimed 'Record Collection' album, which spawned the singles 'Bang Bang Bang', 'The Bike Song' and the sublime 'Somebody To Love Me', will be headlining the Saturday night. Saturday will also see a special guest performance from folk darling Laura Marling in the Big Top, sure to be an intimate and emotional set.

The festival will come to an exhilarating and euphoric end when Primal Scream headline Sunday evening, playing their psychedelic masterpiece 'Screamadelica' in full, as well as a collection of their greatest hits.

Live acts joining the incredible headliners will include the recently reformed House of Pain, ABC, The Selecter starring Pauline Black and Gaps Hendrickson, Newton Faulkner, the hotly tipped Claire Maguire, dubstep's first lady Katy B, Eliza Doolittle, the Cuban Brothers whose side-splitting soul and cheeky repartee are not to be missed, plus there'll be beatbox genius and all-round top bloke Beardyman and swing hip-hoppers The Correspondents. There will also be performances from The Wonder Stuff, Ms Dynamite, Wretch 32, Ed Sheeran, Fenech-Soler, Frankie & The Heartstrings, Brandt Brauer Frick, Lau, Lucky Elephant, The Crayonettes, Smerins, Anti-Social Club, Two Wounded Birds, Caitlin Rose, Jaipur Brass Band, Kawa Circus, Bajah & the Dry Eye Crew, The Bad Shepherds, Marcus Foster, The Emerald Guard, Jellicle Cats, The Widow Maker and Kathryn Williams.

Crazy club vibes will come courtesy of Rob da Bank with his famed beyond eclectic fare, plus the mighty Groove Armada will present Redlight, arch scratch master DJ Yoda is sure to get the show jumping and the venerable David Rodigan will demonstrate just why he's one of the most respected selectors on the planet. And there'll be more booty shaking, speaker shredding action from the likes of Jaguar Skills, London Elektricity, The Nextmen, Dub Pistols Soundsystem, Channel One Soundsystem, Krafty Kuts, A.Skillz, DJ Derek and Reggae Roast.

Comedy | Always a hit at Camp Bestival, this year's live comedy comes this year from young sensation Jack Whitehall, the human sound machine Michael Winslow (of Police Academy fame), Milton Jones, quiz show regular and early edition host Marcus Brigstocke, Camp Bestival regular Craig Campbell, and many more.

Jack Whitehall heads the comedy billing

Kids entertainment | Everyone's favourite kids double act Dick and Dom will be making a special appearance to host the Main Stage on Saturday during the day time.

Among the kids entertainment is a festival exclusive appearance from the stars of Shrek The Musical; a return of The Gruffalo, a popular attraction last year; The Sooty Show in a UK Festival exclusive, featuring Soo and Sweep; and also joining the throng will be Panzee, Tang, Zak and Drum AKA the ZingZillas. The band will be monkeying around mixing up rock and soul, jazz and samba and could even drop in some big band sounds!

Other entertainment | Hugh Fearnley-Whittingstall's River Cottage Café will be returning to Lulworth Castle and Rock 'n' roll chef, Gizzi Erskine, will also be joining Camp Bestival this year to help feed the thousands with some of her delicious recipes.

The English National Ballet, one of the world's leading ballet companies, is coming back to Camp Bestival for a third year with a host of expert ballet workshops in the ballet tent. There will be something for children of all ages; family sessions for tots, introductions for complete beginners and workshops for improvers! There will also be some other treats in store in this tent over the weekend, including Ballet Pilates to de-stress and revive your weary festival bones and creative workshops so that you too can look like a proper ballerina. In between the workshops, you will have the chance to sit back and relax and watch screenings of The English National Ballet's very best shows or try on ballet costumes in dressing-up corner.

This year the fancy dress theme is all things Medieval. There'll be the traditional Fancy Dress Parade for everybody on Saturday in the Kids Garden, the Camp Bestival resident dressing up box will be stacked full of vintage princess dresses, hand-made costumes for all sizes, and next to the dressing up tent is the Camp Bestival catwalk where the little ones can parade and dance up and down to music all day.

There will be a variety of erudite pleasures on offer all weekend including the Satin Lizard Lounge Spoken Word line up curated by Scroobius Pip and hosted by absurdly talented Sound of Rum front-woman Kate Tempest. Plus there'll be Opera Up Close, Gideon Reeling Theatre, Heritage Arts Company and lots and lots more effortlessly enjoyable diversions to while away your fest-holiday.

All makes serviced

VAG Specialists - including Seat, Skoda, Audi & VW

CHRIS David, owner of The Corner Garage, is part of a third generation family owned business which is serving its incredible 75th year, which makes it one of the oldest garages around.

At the Corner garage they believe in doing things the old fashioned way repairing vehicles rather than replacing them - of course where possible! and in particular specialise in the VAG range (VW, Audi, Seat and Skoda), which are small engine and low insurance cars that you will be able to see a selection of on their forecourt.

Not just a garage, they are also the only garage between Bridport and Crewkerne that serves petrol and also one of very few that actually serves you.

With three staff on board they are greatly experienced in repairing old vehicles and spend a lot of their time on rally and race preparation.

Situated opposite the Half Moon pub in Melplash the garage gets a lot of local, reliable trade who use the garage time and time again and have produced many testimonials which you will be able to see on the good garage scheme website of which the Corner Garage are members.

So sure of doing their work the right way they hand out to every customer an Industry standard service form which highlights all work carried out, a good garage scheme survey form for your opinions and because they are a female friendly garage they always tell the client what is wrong and even draw pictures to describe the fault fully.

So if you have a problem with your car, need some petrol or looking to buy a car pop in and see the Corner Garage or call Chris and the team on 01308 488238.

Zero emissions: It's an idea worth spreading

SOME of the world's greatest minds will be able to test-drive the latest in zero-emission technology when the Renault-Nissan Alliance takes part in a global conference of artists, scientists, economists, philosophers and activists this week in Edinburgh.

The Renault-Nissan Alliance is the automotive partner of the annual TEDGlobal conference, an event which aims to answer questions such as 'How can life be better lived?'

The 2011 TEDGlobal is held July 11th-15th, and a highlight for nearly 1,000 participants will be driving Renault and Nissan's zero-emission vehicles at the show and on the surrounding streets of Edinburgh.

TED started in 1984 as a conference bringing together people from three worlds: Technology, Entertainment and Design.

A non-profit organisation devoted to "Ideas Worth Spreading," TED conferences have become must-attend events for "early adopters" in worldwide industry and academia – including advocates of sustainability.

The Renault-Nissan Alliance is the global leader in sustainable transportation and the only car group launching a range of affordable EVs for mainstream consumers around the world.

The first, the Nissan LEAF, is a mainstream, affordable zero-emission car that consumes no oil whatsoever and can be charged by nearly any energy source – from conventional electricity to home solar panels or other forms of renewable energy.

In addition to Nissan LEAF - European and World Car of the Year 2011 – TEDGlobal will also feature stylish, fun electric vehicles from Renault – Twizy and Fluence Z.E. (for *Zero Emission).

Both Renault Twizy and Nissan LEAF will be on display at Edinburgh's International Conference Centre. In order to allow conference delegates to experience the future of urban motoring first hand, Renault Fluence Z.E and Nissan LEAF will be available for short test drives on the streets of Edinburgh.

Nissan has already delivered more than 9,500 Nissan LEAFs in Japan, the US and Europe since sales began late last year. European sales are underway in Portugal, the Republic of Ireland, the UK and the Netherlands while order books have opened in Switzerland, France, Spain and Belgium with the first customers in those markets expected to start receiving their cars soon.

A roomy family hatchback that seats five adults comfortably, Nissan LEAF is powered by an in-house developed compact electric motor and inverter in the front of the car which drives the front wheels. The AC motor develops 80 kW of power and 280 Nm of torque, enough for a maximum speed of 145 km/h.

Nissan LEAF has a range between charges of up to 175 km, as tested over the New European Driving Cycle (NEDC).

The zero-emission vehicle comes fully equipped with features such as air conditioning, satellite navigation, rear-view parking camera, quick charge socket and innovative smart-phone connectivity.

Renault EVs debut in Europe later this year. Renault Twizy is an innovative two-seat commuter car with eye-catching styling.

Affordable, practical and safe, Twizy is easy to drive and even easier to park. It is the environmentally responsible choice for the inner city.

Twizy features a 15kW AC motor and has a top speed of 80 km/h and a range of 100 km (NEDC).

Renault Fluence Z.E is a full electric five-seat saloon. Thanks to its innovative patented floor design that allows a fully automated battery pack swap to be undertaken in under five minutes, a Fluence recently won a 300 km Inter City Challenge – part of the influential 2011 Challenge Bibendum rally – beating conventionally powered cars as well as other EVs.

HOW TO REDUCE THE COST OF MOTORING

THE cost of fuel is ever increasing and burdens everyone who depends on their vehicle for getting about. Vehicle maintenance is also an expensive but necessary evil.

Long journeys can be high on fatigue and stressful. You also may be concerned about pollution – greenhouse gases as well as noise – global warming and the world we leave to our children and grandchildren. You can now do something.

wRIGHT DRIVING is offering a half day course for drivers who want to address all or some of these issues.

The course is designed for two people, maybe friends or relatives, but you may be teamed up with another individual.

The course will assess your current style of driving then a brief presentation and demonstration drive will show you how to reduce those motoring costs.

There is then an opportunity to practice with full tuition from your trainer.

Then it's up to you. In the weeks and months that follow you will, if you practice the techniques:

- Save between 5% and 17% of your fuel bill (Driving Standards Agency figures)
- If you drive 15000 miles per year, with present fuel costs, you could recover the course cost as soon as 5 weeks on fuel alone.
- Reduce wear and tear on your vehicle.

Each candidate will be issued with an EcoDriving Guide to refer to in the future.

Driving trainer Haydn Wright said: "Eco-driving is the way ahead."

"With a little training and practice to modify your driving techniques you can make an amazing difference to your fuel bills, vehicle maintenance costs and pollution emissions with minimal difference in your journey times."

"The course is ideal for both business and private drivers and would make an ideal gift for a friend or relative."

"The course pays for itself within a few weeks but that will depend on the drivers average mileage."

For further information contact wRIGHT DRIVING on 0800 4320206.

Dorchester put to the sword by youngster

Dorset Funeral Plan League
Premier League*DORCHESTER 94 ALL OUT*LOST TO POOLE TOWN 370-9 BY 276 RUNS

DORCHESTER were crushed by title contenders Poole Town at the Rec on Saturday, going down to a massive 276 run defeat.

Captain Martyn Richards made three changes from last week's side in an effort to improve his team's faltering season but that was all to no avail as Poole amassed a formidable 370-9 on a good track in their 50 overs thanks mainly to a quick-fire century from Ben Rogers who was dropped when he had scored just 10.

Dorchester were to rue that miss as the 16-year-old opener went on to score 120 in double quick time, his century coming off just 50 balls.

Despite Rogers looking edgy in the early part of his innings, he and Masoor Khan (31) put on 144 for the first wicket, and with good contributions from Martin Miller (37), Alam (28), Ciaran Quinn (29) and Steve Wilson (44 not out) the visitors put the county town bowling and fielding to the sword. None of the bowlers escaped punishment with Andy Mead (2-58) and Dan Belt (2-65) the pick of the bunch.

With the daunting task ahead, none of the Dorchester side were able to cope, as Quinn made the most of a demoralised batting display claiming 5-17 from his seven overs.

Only Rob Waite (13), Belt (15), Richards (14) and Chris Backhouse (12) got into double figures as the hosts capitulated to 94 all out in just 18.5 overs.

Richards said: "It was a horrendous afternoon in which we were left to rue an expensive missed opportunity, and where none of our batsmen focused and applied themselves.

"All in all it was a day to reflect on some lacklustre fielding, undisciplined bowling but moreover an exceptional performance from a young cricketer who I hope not to face again too many times in the future!"

WEYMOUTH 177 ALL OUT BEAT*BLANDFORD 111 ALL OUT BY 66 RUNS

AT 90-7 Weymouth's chances of victory looked slim particularly with skipper Paul Payne sidelined having torn a side muscle, but an eighth wicket stand of 86 by Faraz Ulhaq (53) and Cube Whyte (37) saw the Seaside reach the respectable total of 177 all out to give themselves a fighting chance of victory.

Payne who was on 28 when he had to retire, was the only bright spot in another dismal batting display, but Ulhaq and Whyte eventually gave Weymouth something to defend.

Fortunately the home bowlers were in good form. Michael Pearce (3-26) and Matt Lawes (0-20) put the Blandford batsmen under the cosh from the start and with Ulhaq (3-22) and Whyte (3-29) also showing with the ball they reduced the visitors to 64-8, and despite a battling 35 not out by Aaron Day they were finally dismissed for 111 all out.

Division One*CORFE MULLEN 98-2 BEAT*WEYMOUTH 2ND 95 ALL OUT BY EIGHT WICKETS

IN a remarkable collapse Weymouth 2nds, who had looked to be cruising along at 84-2, lost eight wickets for just 11 runs leaving Simon Browne, batting at five on five not out.

The hosts knocked off the target with eight wickets to spare.

Division Two*BERE REGIS 130 ALL OUT BEAT BEAMINSTER 58 ALL OUT BY 72 RUNS

AFTER an encouraging win last week, Beaminster slumped to defeat at Bere Regis following another dismal batting display.

Having won the toss Bere Regis openers struggled on a slow and low surface, with Ross Baker applying pressure in a good opening nine over spell.

However it was Simon Jones (3-27) at first change that made the breakthrough, removing both openers before having Tatchell well caught by Richard Runyard. Adam Herring (3-33) then took a wicket with his first ball to leave the hosts 53-4.

Beaminster's fielding was tight with Fred Everitt (23) hit and although Baker (2-34) returned to claim two wickets and Mark Barber (2-14) added further scalps Bere Regis posted a score of 130 all out.

In reply, Beaminster lost Runyard in the first over, and although Fred Everitt (14) played some lovely strokes, batting was difficult for all of the batsmen.

Bere Regis fielded well and applied pressure with aggressive field placings, they clearly knew their own wicket. Everitt and David (7) took the score to 31 before spinner Macklin came into the attack, and along with Davis (4-25 from 12 overs) they scythed through the Beaminster card. Macklin took 5-8 from eight overs as Beaminster lost nine wickets for just 27 runs with six ducks and only Colin Lloyd (11) managing double figures.

POOLE TOWN 2ND 247-7 BEAT*DORCHESTER 2ND 99 ALL OUT BY 148 RUNS

DORCHESTER 2nds crashed to their fourth defeat in a row after looking title contenders early in the season, and have now plummeted to third from bottom after a heavy defeat at midtable Poole Town 2nd's.

Division Three*BRIDPORT 107 ALL OUT LOST TO CATTISTOCK 206-3 BY 99 RUNS

THIS was almost the father and son show as Buddy Langford ripped through the Bridport batting to claim 6-12 off 11.4 overs after his son Martin had carried his bat for 61 not out to help steer the visitors to victory.

Cattistock found the going tough to start against the opening bowling of Dom Gape and Ed Halson and lost Dave Baggs (2) to Halson (1-32) with the score on 13-1. Batting continued to be difficult as the visitors crawled to 65-2 at drinks off 22 overs but the arrival of James England following the dismissal of Joe Baggs (30) with the score 97-3 saw an acceleration and with Langford playing the anchor role, the two added an unbeaten 109 in 14 overs for the fourth wicket with England 63 not out.

Bridport made the worst start possible when Liam Toohill was bowled fourth ball by Lee Anderson. Worse was to follow when the returning Dave Herbert dragged a ball from Bradley Damen onto his stumps. Anderson then bowled Sam Challis (15) to leave Bridport 25-3.

Skipper Mark Smith (15) joined Sam Good and at drinks things looked very tight with the scores the same except Bridport had lost a wicket more. However the introduction of Buddy Langford saw the capitulation of Bridport.

Smith was stumped with the score on 77 and Langford and after Richard Fagence removed Good (34) Langford went on to claim the final five wickets as Bridport were dismissed for 107 all out.

Cattistock secretary Richard Langford said: "It looked very tight with a close finish anticipated at drinks with a strong Bridport batting line-up to come, but Buddy destroyed them just bowling line and length."

Smith said: "I was very confident with the side we had this week, but we got behind the run rate and tried forcing the pace but with Buddy bowling such a good line and length we lost the plot.

"I think it's a confidence issue at the moment. We bowled really tightly at the beginning and perhaps didn't have the best of luck, but we lack patience with both the bat and ball at the moment. We need to take our time and not get anxious."

MARTINSTOWN 70-5 BEAT*CERNE VALLEY 69 ALL OUT BY FIVE WICKETS

MARTINSTOWN won this low scoring match that keeps them in second place but sees Cerne Valley drop to fourth place as a result.

Liam Banfield was the star with 6-21 from eleven overs as the visitors were skittled for just 69 all out. Stuart Fry (2-5 from six overs) opened the floodgates by trapping both openers before Banfield struck, with only Andrew Mercer (17) and Chris Holman (10) getting into double figures. Matt Rimmer (2-26) was the other bowler to claim wickets in a mean display by the home bowlers.

It was fortunate that Ed Nichols was in form for Martinstown in reply as Ed Ford (4-24) looked like he could spring a surprise. However the opener produced a match winning display with 39 not out including six 4s as the hosts passed their target in 28.5 overs.

Club captain Nick Quintrell, sidelined with a broken thumb for the rest of the season said: "This was a pleasing performance from Martinstown especially in light of last week's disappointing reversal to Shillingstone where we lacked penetration in our bowling for the first time this season - taking two wickets defending almost 180 was worrying. This week though our bowlers found their bite again and made Cerne struggle from ball one.

"Stu Fry ran in with the rhythm that foot and back injuries have robbed him of in recent times. His pace and direction were right on the button as the figures suggest. Danny swung the new ball and the pair complimented each other well.

"Runs were hard to come by as the score shows and I was impressed with the way the boys kept up the pressure on each batsman, denying easy runs and allowing the pressure then to come from the need to score runs.

"It was a fantastic bowling performance with Liam's 6-21 as much to do with the pressure built by the field and the bowling unit.

"Our response wasn't without cause for alarm, but Ed kept calm and scored a measured unbeaten 39 that saw us home."

Division Four*BEAMINSTER 2ND 177-9 LOST*TO BROADSTONE 3RD 178-2 BY EIGHT WICKETS

BEAMINSTER batted first on a wicket that was pretty green after a wet week and made slow progress against some good bowling.

Despite losing wickets at regular intervals eight Beaminster batsmen reached double figures with Joe Singleton (20), Hugh Rathbone (17) and Dave Hall (17) being the pick.

However Beaminster were struggling at 128-9 in the 37th over until an unbroken last wicket partnership of 49 between Fred Etherington (40 not out) and Stu Lindsay (4 not out) saw Beaminster though to 177-9 after 45 overs, the highest score they have made this season.

Lindsay (1-25) made an early breakthrough to leave Broad-stone 13-1 after 6 overs, but a second wicket stand of 150 between Seymour (85 not out) and Rogers (53), both players with lots of first team experience, took Broadstone to the brink of victory before Dave Penman (1-9) grabbed a consolation wicket right at the death.

This was a more encouraging performance from Beaminster 2nds who are playing two divisions higher than they should be after the league was reshuffled in the last two seasons, and the signs are that when they get to their right level they will be much more competitive.

POOLE TOWN 3RD 162-2 BEAT*WEYMOUTH 3RD 161-9 BY EIGHT WICKETS

WEYMOUTH travelled to Poole with a depleted side but still gave a reasonable account of themselves.

They found batting difficult against a good bowling attack but with Ryan Monk leading the charge with an excellent 41, and well supported by Luke Carrington (25) and captain Craig Johnson (20) they posted a score of 161-9.

Monks (2-33 from 7 overs) reduced the visitors to 34-2 before D Quinn and R Cotton helped themselves to half centuries as they shared an unbeaten third wicket stand of 128 for an eight wicket victory.

Johnson said: "We didn't score quick enough and were about 50 short of what we should have got. Having said that Poole knocked off the runs with plenty of overs to spare."

Division Five*DORCHESTER 3RD 158-5 BEAT*FERNDOWN WAYFARERS 3RDS 157 ALL OUT BY FIVE WICKETS

THE spin twins of Callum Tucker (4-29) and Sam Roles (4-40) spun Dorchester to a five wicket victory in a tense encounter, both players picking up four wickets each.

Ferndown won the toss and started brightly with their 50 coming up in only 10 overs. With 80 runs on the board the Ferndown batsmen looked well set for a big score until an inspired over from Karl Malone (2-29) removed both openers. Unfortunately in bowling the Ferndown captain Rob Bowering, the ball rebounded off the stumps and hit wicketkeeper Cameron Lucas in the face resulting in a trip to the hospital for a broken nose.

The introduction of spin was the telling part of the Ferndown innings, the right arm and left arm spin combination of Roles and Tucker bamboozling the batsmen as they collapsed from 80-2 to 157 all out.

The Dorchester reply started badly when opener Nick Roe was brilliantly caught by a diving Casson with the score on 7-1. Fellow opener Miller (19) was then adjudged leg before wicket leaving Dorchester 37-2.

However, the momentum of the game leaned towards Dorchester as the major innings between George Thomas (45) and Rhys Cole (40) began to develop.

Thomas played the cautious role rotating the strike whereas Cole produced some lusty straight driving both complimenting each other.

Their partnership of 82 was broken by the introduction of Dave Stone (3-26) who removed both of them in his second over and then had Quinten, well caught by Clarke.

The game was in the balance at 128-5 but the return of Lucas from hospital spurred on Roles (20 not out) and Dominic Royle (16 not out) who steered Dorchester to a hard fought victory with a 30 run partnership.

Captain Pete Tucker said: "I was very proud of Sam and Calum who bowled with such control and variation. Their input into the game changed the momentum towards a Dorchester win. Slow bowling is an art and many people think they can do this.

The returning university graduate George Thomas and Rhys Cole showed their true qualities with two outstanding innings to take Dorchester to victory."

Division Six*PARLEY 104 ALL OUT*LOST TO ABBOTSBURY 214-9 BY 110 RUNS

ABBOTSBURY got back on the winning track with an excellent all-round team performance at King's Park, Bournemouth.

■ SPIN TWINS: Callum Tucker (left) and Sam Roles who spun Dorchester 3rds to a five wicket victory.

Winning the toss and batting first, The Swans soon lost Nick Wardlaw but some good consolidation by skipper Simon Pengelly (13) and Robin Potter (13) was ably followed up by Chas Duerdoth (66) and Chai Sanapala (35) with Frank Pittman (22) and debutant Alec Duncan (18) contributing some useful boundaries at the end to enable Abbotsbury to pass 200 for the second week in succession.

There was to be no repeat of last week's agonies, however, as the Abbotsbury bowlers steadily worked through the home batsmen.

Chas Duerdoth (4-38) was the pick with Grafton Straker picking up another two wickets and Nick Wardlaw (3-20) making up for a rare batting failure. Club secretary and wicket-keeper Mick Lydford commented: "The variation in Duerdoth's bowling caused problems throughout"

BLANDFORD 3RD 133 ALL OUT*LOST TO BRIDPORT 2ND 137-3 BY SEVEN WICKETS

BRIDPORT 3rds coasted home to a seven wicket victory after Rob Condliffe and Rod Gay dismissed the last six Blandford batsmen for just 36 runs.

Batting first Blandford seemed well in control at 97-4 but Condliffe (4-22) and Gay (3-10 from six overs) soon changed the game Bridport's way.

In reply the same two put on 40 for the first wicket before they were both dismissed for 20 with a short space of time, and although Duane Gay went cheaply, Toby Hall with a fine unbeaten half-century (58 not out) and Tom Melandino (21 not out) ensured a Bridport victory.

Division Eight*STURMINSTER & HINTON 2ND 138-5 LOST TO*MARTINSTOWN 2ND 140-6 BY FOUR WICKETS.

A SILENDID 92 not out from A.Cornell formed the backbone of Sturminster & Hinton's innings as he and Ollie Curtis (20 not out) managed to set Martinstown a target of 139 to win after the home side had been struggling after losing five early wickets.

Chris Monteith (2-34) was the most successful bowler although Ben Wood was the meanest with 1-15 from 12 overs.

Paul Milverton (20) and Wood (15) got Martinstown off to a steady start but after Gary Thorne (3-28) caused a middle order collapse, it needed a solid sixth wicket stand between Steven Masters (29) and Stuart Dawson (33 not out) to steady the ship and set up the win.

Sunday Division Four*WINTON 2ND 179 ALL OUT*LOST TO SYMENE 181-8 BY TWO WICKETS

SYMENE continued their winning ways, although they made it harder for themselves than they should by dropping a couple of catches.

One short, Winton dragged a former player from the bar to make up the numbers and he and the normal opener put on 50 for the last wicket after Colin Willcox (3-45), Ed Halson (3-29) and Liam Toohill (12-38) had reduced Winton to 129-8.

Liam Toohill (49) and Sam Challis (52) put together a good fourth wicket stand to put Symene in the driving seat in reply, before Keith Readings struck five huge 6s in his 38 to give the visitors the points.

CHARLTON DOWN 211-8 BEAT PARLEY 2ND 131 ALL OUT BY 80 RUNS
AFTER a humbling defeat at Symene last week, Charlton Down bounced back with a solid victory over Parley 2nds.

Batting first they started slowly but Ian Doyle (18) and Steve Marsh (10) saw off the impressive opening bowlers before John Butterworth bludgeoned a quick 60 to move the rate on, ably assisted by Nick Roe (26).

The visitors then took all the pace off the ball and after a mini collapse Mark Homewood (25) and Matt Lowther (17) both remained unbeaten at the end to push the score up to 211-8.

The bowling effort of Charlton Down couldn't have been better. Missing a few regulars, Rich Fagence (12-6-11-1) and Mark Homewood (12-2-43-3) saw off the visiting top order whilst restricting the scoring.

Steve Marsh (1-11 off 5 overs) and Ian Doyle (2-18 off 8) then forced Parley to fall behind the run rate and regularly lose wickets, including two poor run outs, as they tried to force the pace before Rudo Wormgoor bagged the last two wickets leaving the visitors 131 all out.

Readers Mid-Wessex League Division One

WESTLANDS 81 ALL OUT LOST TO BROADWINDSOR 172-4 BY 91 RUNS
BROADWINDSOR had a comfortable win over Westlands with another good display with both bat and ball.

Put into bat, Broadwindsor made 172-4 from their 45 overs with Steve Phillips top scoring with an excellent 55. He was well supported by Joe Hawkins (37) and Ross Baker (29).

Once Broadwindsor had removed Ben Ford who scored 40, half his side's total, Baker 4-28, Ade Phillips 2-9 and Jack Walkett with an amazing 3-1 from two overs scuttled Westlands for just 81 all out.

Skipper Ade Phillips said: "We bowled and fielded well again and took some good catches."

LYME REGIS BOWLS

WITH PAUL MOFFITT

Sherborne bogey laid to rest

IT'S been a good week for the ladies and the men's 'B' team, both picking up eight points each, but the fortunes of the championship side, and the 'A' team in particular, are causing concern.

With three ends to go, the championship side were in with a chance of eight points, but a disastrous last three ends from Paul Pomeroy's rink and an unlucky last end from Paul Moffitt's rink reduced the haul to just two points.

The ladies will be particularly pleased with their eight points, taken as they were from Sherborne on their own 'turf'.

Sherborne have so often proved to be the bogey team for the ladies, so this result is particularly pleasing.

The club won both their friendlies. A particularly pleasant day out was enjoyed when the Club made it's annual pilgrimage to Teignmouth by coach.

It didn't start too well when the coach company sent a 24 seater for 32 passengers.

Hasty rearrangements were made and we all arrived in plenty of time to enjoy lunch, and for a few, a little shopping!

Once again we were serenaded on the way home by Roy Edwards with his accordion.

Results:

Dorset Ladies Division One.

Lyme 8 points; Sherborne 2.

I don't have individual scores, but the winning rinks were skipped by Chris Barber and Sue Rowe.

Sailing academy host Blind Week sailors

THE Weymouth and Portland National Sailing Academy (WPNSA) last week hosted a fleet of yachts sailing with visually impaired (VI) and blind crews on board as part of Blind Week which is now associated with the charity, Sailing Opportunities for Disabled People.

John Tweed, Chief Executive of the WPNSA is delighted to have hosted these sailors. "Blind Week is an excellent initiative dating back to 1975 and we are proud to be hosting the week this year at the academy. A large part of our venue development is focussed on access for people with disabilities, and it is inspiring to see visually impaired and blind sailors enjoying these top rate facilities. The event has spawned many of the UK's world class racing sailors, with GBR regularly taking home gold, silver and bronze medals in the World Blind Sailing Championship and it is exciting to think that some of these visually impaired sailors could also make the 2012 Paralympic Squad.

"The week offers a great opportunity for visually impaired individuals and gives them the opportunity to take their first steps offshore and get a taste of the thrills off sailing. The event is available to all and experience is not a requirement, the idea of the event is for participants to gain experience from the skippers and other crew members. Many of the skippers involved in the event are seasoned pros; two of them at this recent event have racked up 52 blind weeks between them."

The boats are provided with a talking compass and some have voice synthesised instrumentation. The teams consist of two VI sailors and one or two other crew members as well as the skipper. The cruising ranges from day sailing to cruises as far as France, the Isles of Scilly and the Channel Islands.

The WPNSA is becoming a regular location for similar events with the IFDS World Championships having taken place last week. This is followed by the Test Games during August and will ultimately be the venue for the sailing competition at the London 2012 Paralympic Games.

Please note that Blind Week was initiated by, and run under the auspices of, the RYA Seamanship Foundation from 1976 (which was renamed RYA Sailability in 1995) who handed the organisation on to Sailing Opportunities for Disabled People in 2000.

Cricket candles

UPLYME & Lyme Regis Cricket Club are organising a special King George Candles event in partnership with 'Candles on the Cobb', the Lyme Regis-based charity which raises money for youth and other local causes.

The event scheduled for Sunday, September 4th will be a 40 over cricket game starting at 1pm followed, at 8pm, by the lighting of over 2000 candles around the cricket ground.

The Candle on the Cobb Committee has agreed that the candles will be "sold" on behalf of the Sam Nunn appeal.

Sam is an Uplyme youngster, who has been fighting a rare form of cancer for three years. The money raised will go towards payment for a six month course of treatment in a German clinic, the only place where this treatment is available. People are encouraged to buy a candle "to remember somebody".

Candle Certificates are currently available for sale at: Along Came Polly, Nags Head, Paul's Barber Shop, Rock Point Inn, Talbot Arms, Travis-Perkins, Town Mill Cheesemonger and Uplyme Village Stores.

SCHOOL SPORTS

Ryan has last laugh as he sweeps the board

■ HARD WORKER: Holly Butt receives the Sporting Achievement Outside of School trophy from governor Peter Smith

RYAN Huish picked up three awards in his last Sports Presentation Evening at The Sir John Colfox School held last week.

There was a wry smile on the sixth former's face as he received the third and most cherished award of Sports Person of the Year, as he has ambitions to become a stand-up comic and will be hoping to bring smiles to his audiences faces after studying a degree in comedy at Southampton University starting in the autumn.

He will leave with accolades ringing in his ears as his tutors and Headteacher Kay Taylor spoke of both his sporting and social achievements in school, as he also picked up the Sixth Form Sports Person of the Year as well as the Overall Sports Leader award.

Head of PE Nathan Gosling, who only joined the school last autumn said he was amazed at the high standards that so many athletes had achieved over such a range of activities, whilst Mrs Taylor in welcoming pupils, parents, governors and sponsors to the event, had said how the success raised morale within the school.

Success was not only on the field of play but also through Young Leader Awards and through dance where the school won four prestigious awards and were second overall in the Southern Regional heat of the national Rock Challenge competition.

This year's Coach of the Year Award went to Shirley Parker of West Dorset Fencing Club who, since introducing the sport to the school said it has become very popular.

Winners: Year 7: Sportsman – James Noonan; Sportswoman – Charlotte Johnson; Year 8: Sportsman – Lewis Middleton; Sportswoman – Imogen Slade; Year 9: Sportsman – Rhys Kirkpatrick; Sportswoman – Harriet Hughes; Year 10: Sportsman – Matt Fry; Sportswoman – Wendy Robertshaw; Year 11: Sportsman – Olly Bowen-Ashwin; Sportswoman – Danni Donovan; sixth form: Sportsperson – Ryan Huish; Coach of the Year: Shirley Parker (Fencing); Sporting Achievement Outside School: Holly Butt; Team: Inter Girls Athletics Squad; Fair Play: Amy Van Zyl; Overall Young Leader: Ryan Huish; Sports Person: Ryan Huish.

BOB BUCKLER RACING

WITH STUART BROOM

Mister Matt keeps good run going

MISTER Matt ensured that the bad luck that befell Bob Buckler's yard 24 hours earlier did not have any lingering effect by winning the bet365 Handicap Chase over two miles at Utoxetter to keep the stables good form running.

Having made such a good start to the season with only one of his 13 previous runners this season having not been placed, stable jockey Nathan Sweeney broke his leg when he was unseated on Ethiopia the night before at Newton Abbot in the same race as Cullahill who was disappointing and found the race one too many in a long hard campaign.

Tiger Breeze then failed to impress in the bet365 Conditional Jockeys' Novices' Hurdle earlier on the same card, but AP McCoy, a more than capable replacement for Sweeney, had no problem in steering Mister Matt the 11/4 second favourite home by three lengths from Wherrimon after the favourite Mr Bond had broken down and pulled up four fences from home.

Always in the mix, the eight-year-old gained his maiden victory after ten top three finishes in his previous 19 races. It looked a race between the top two favourites as they came to the end of the back straight but the favourite broke down on the approach to the fourth last and pulled up on landing, and although Wherrimon put in a concerted effort to catch McCoy's charge, they extended their lead after the last to win comfortably.

Buckler said: "Both horse and jockey did a very good job. He jumped well and never looked in any real danger of losing, and has received a 5lb penalty from the handicapper for his win."

Commenting on Tiger Breeze, the trainer added: "He was disappointing.

"He got really worked up down at the start and sweated up and was much too keen. We will give him another race in a handicapper and make a decision from there."

Cricket club bowled over by new practice nets

BRIDPORT Cricket Club is indebted to a number of local sponsors for the provision of a set of badly needed practice nets which were officially opened last Friday at the Brewery Ground.

Club chairman Paul Edwards welcomed a selection of the 36 sponsors to a short ceremony before the club's training session.

In his address he thanked all those that had contributed to the cost which would have been beyond the club's means.

"The old nets were in a poor state and we were quoted £7650 to replace them. Even by doing some of the work ourselves it was going to cost £5760 which was way beyond the club's means.

"We are therefore extremely grateful to all the sponsors who have helped contribute towards what you can see are a wonderful set of nets.

"Not only are they of a high quality they are 12ft high instead of the old ones at 10ft which will help some of our bowlers with a high hand action!"

Among the sponsors who were invited to attend were Freshwater Beach Holiday Park (Rod Condliffe), Mark Broad Fund (Nikki Broad), Nantes Solicitors (Mike Harvey), Palmer's Brewery (Cleaves Palmer), The Lions Club of Bridport (Don Morley), The West Bay Hotel (Paul Crisp) and Bridport Round Table (several members).

The cricket club's treasurer John Good, 1st team captain Mark Smith and junior coordinator Liam Toohill were also present.

Other sponsors who have donated are: A G Down Ltd, AP Chant Plumbing & Heating, A J Wakely & Sons, Ackerman Engineering Ltd, Bridport Town Council, C G Fry & Sons Ltd, Country

Gardens, Delta Building Supplies, Four Seasons kiosk, Fowler Tool and Plant Hire, Good News, Haddon House Hotel, Hallmark Windows (South West), Harbour Bonfield Ltd, Huck Cricket, Jewson Ltd, Kennedy Estate Agents, Mac Building Contractors Ltd, Martin & Co Accountants, Mrs Sylvia Griffin, Mrs Vivien Smith, R A Poole Plasterer, R J Leaf Wrought Ironwork, Sim Scott Electrical Contractors, Steve's Hairdressers Ltd, Symonds & Sampson, Townsend Engineering Ltds, Co-op Store and Gemma's Flowers.

Coombe's 40 lands top spot

IN a week when changeable weather caused significant disruption to the week's programme or when fresh to gale force winds provided challenging conditions writes Steve Percival.

It was pleasing that three of the regular events were completed without interruption.

Midweek Stableford

THE midweek stableford saw the usual relatively small group of regular participants take to the course in relatively benign weather conditions.

Whether it was a reflection of the course and weather conditions or a sign of the benefits gained through recent excellent conditions the scores carded were outstanding to say the least.

First place was achieved by Rob Coombe (13) with an exceptional 40 points. Two two scratch handicap players, Scott Love and Ed Lawrence were close behind with 38 and 34 points respectively.

Junior Medal

ON Sunday, July 9th it was the turn of the Junior section of the club to shine in their monthly medal competition. Yet again Lewis Cottam (26) produced an excellent round to score a net 67.

In second place with a net 71 was M Vincent (40) closely followed by Kai-to-Li (12) with a net 72.

Langmoor Trophy

IN addition to the medal format the bogey competition is perhaps the truest test of golfer against the course where the player scores positive or negative points according to whether they achieve a net par, a par, or a bogey or worse score.

Inevitably an overall score of net zero is a good score with anything as a plus score even better.

With a field well in excess of previous weekend's events, competition was hard fought for the honours.

In the end first and second places were achieved by two pupils of Club Assistant professional Sarah Burnell, Steve Piper (24) and Bob Taylor (7) who scored a highly impressive plus 6 and five respectively.

In third place, also with plus 5, was Paul Liston (9).

Hereford hand out a hiding

DORSET County cricket team were handed an eight wicket hiding by hosts Herefordshire in their latest Minor Counties Western Division clash at Devizes.

The match, which concluded on Monday, was a person triumph for 20-year-old Herefordshire seamer who claimed match figures of 11 for 123.

For Dorset, Darren Cowley continued his excellent form with the bat with a fine first innings knock of 62 and pace-man Mark Wolstenholme claimed a season's best haul of 4 for 89 in the hosts' first innings reply.

Bees show promise in anniversary celebration

BRIDPORT 3 DORCHESTER TOWN XI 1

Saturday, July 9th

BRIDPORT gained revenge for their defeat at the hands of Dorchester 125 years ago in their first competitive match with a comprehensive victory in this pre-season friendly writes Stuart Broom.

A shirtsleeve crowd of 360 were treated to an entertaining first-half in which Bridport came from a goal down to lead 2-1 at the break, although with Dorchester introducing a number of trialists in the second half the game petered out as the Bees kept their shape to add a further goal to reflect a fair scoreline.

Dorchester having already played Yeovil Town and Exeter City in the previous three days selected a side with just a smattering of first team player which included Jamie Symes who was made captain for the day against his former club. There was also a start for the Magpies first summer signing Ben Dickenson, who was playing his first football of the season having tweaked his ankle within 20 minutes of the start of the first pre-season training session.

The club are excited by the speed of the former Christchurch forward and he showed that when he out-paced Shane Evans down the left after six minutes, but he fired his angled shot wide.

Two minutes earlier Sam Charles showed that he had improved his speed during the season's break when he latched on to Gary McAuley's ball over the defence, but Dan Thomas raced out his goal to block his effort.

After Sam Filkins had similarly blocked a George Kimber effort after a one-two with Dickenson, Matt Condliffe, who had an outstanding game, fired high and wide, and Matt Moors looped a header over the bar.

With Bridport starting to dictate, it was against the run of play when Dorchester took the lead on 21 minutes after Adam Symes brought down Rico Wilson on the left corner of the penalty area.

Wilson's free-kick was blocked but the ball eventually found Jamie Symes who curled his shot beyond Filkins from 15 yards.

However Bridport were level four minutes later when trialist Ben Martin tripped Charles on the edge of the box.

Darren Watts showed he had lost none of his accuracy by curling the 20-yard free-kick beyond Thomas and into the corner off the underside of the bar.

Charles then had his 25-yard angled shot pushed away by Thomas after Russell Legg had split the Magpies defence. At the other end Wilson should have scored with the goal at his mercy after being put in by sub Seb Broomfield but stumbled allowing Evans to clear.

The miss proved costly because almost immediately Charles beat Thomas to a long ball out of defence but his toe poke was going well wide before Moors, chased the ball wide before chipping the ball from an acute angle just inside the far post to give Bridport the lead six minutes from the break.

Broomfield had a chance to square matters before the interval when Dickenson cleverly played him in, but Filkins just got enough on the ball to deflect it wide.

The second-half never really took off as a spectacle. Dorchester made several changes which consequently broke the flow of play, and with so many new faces on show their game became disjointed, whilst Bridport kept their shape and dominated the game.

Sub Tom Richardson on for Moors at half-time had an early chance but his 15-yard shot struck the outside of the upright.

However he sealed the win five minutes from time when he met Joe Charles' flick on from sub Gary Bulman's corner to volley past a crowded Magpies goalmouth.

Chris Senior looked cool and assured at the back whilst Adam Symes complimented Condliffe on the other flank for Bridport. Few impressed for the Magpies except Dickenson, who despite poor service in the second-half showed glimpses of the quality that they believe will see the county town challenging for promotion this season.

Magpies cruise past Glovers

DORCHESTER TOWN 4 YEOVIL TOWN 1

DORCHESTER Town cruised past a Yeovil Town side full of trialists in their first pre-season friendly of the season on Wednesday.

Ashley Vickers also decided to ring the changes at the break replacing all but Nathan Pehrah-Annan, looking for a fourth spell at The Avenue, with three of the trialists, Seb Broomfield, Harrison Bell and Ryan Dovell all getting on the scoresheet.

Apart from the early minutes when former Gashead Dominic Blizzard thumped his header against the angle of the goalframe from Alan O'Brien's corner, Dorchester were rarely in trouble, and it was Glovers keeper Martin Horsell, who had a brief spell at Dorchester in early 2008, who was the busier keeper.

He made a good save from Ryan Moss' close range header after a flick on from Chris Flood, before he had to thank his defender for clearing a Flood effort off the line.

Dorchester took the lead on half-time when Moss's neat back heel gave Flood space to curl his shot around Horsell from the edge of the box.

They increased their advantage nine minutes after the break when an unmarked Broomfield headed home James Coutts' free-kick.

Yeovil substitute Kiernan Hughes-Mason produced some neat footwork in beating two defenders soon after before firing in a low 20-yard shot that Simon Evans pushed away, before Dorchester increased the lead midway through the half when Dovell picked his spot with a carbon copy of Flood's goal.

Yeovil pulled one back when Rhys Kelleher ran the ball into an empty net after Evans had turned away Lewis Perkins fierce cross shot, but the impressive Harrison Bell wrapped things up with a fourth when he headed home Coutts' corner a minute later.

INSIDE: West Dorset Cricket round-up

Plenty for Magpies to think about Cattistock CC

WITH three games in four days Dorchester own assistant manager Phil Simkin just had time to draw breath to assess the situation at The Avenue.

A 4-1 victory over Yeovil Town on Wednesday must look encouraging for Magpies fans, but the fact that Glovers manager Terry Skiverton took the opportunity to assess nineteen trialists took the gloss off the win a little.

However manager Ashley Vickers and Simkin will have been pleased with their side's fitness and sharpness so early back into pre-season training and in full back Harrison Bell appear to have uncovered a possible new recruit to the ranks.

The former AFC Bournemouth full back excelled when he came on at halftime and capped a fine performance by heading the Magpies fourth goal from a corner.

Friday night's 1-1 draw with another npower League One side Exeter City was a much tougher assignment with the Grecians, again like Yeovil playing two different sides, playing all their first team squad, but once again the Magpies gave a good account of themselves against much stronger opposition.

On Saturday it was Dorchester's turn to give a number of trialists a chance to see if they were suitable Blue Square South material when they headed Bridport celebrate their 125th anniversary at St Mary's Field. Sadly few, if any showed the potential required in their 3-1 defeat.

Simkin who only saw part of the Yeovil game as he was taking training of the players not involved said: "Ash I know was very pleased with the lads performances in the matches against Yeovil and in particular against Exeter City who put out an extremely strong side; the side performed admirably in both games.

"Bridport was a different situation with us looking at a number of trialists, some for the first time, and we got a lot of things out of the game; some good, some not so good.

"As it was it was a good day for Bridport with a reasonable crowd to watch, and it was beneficial for both clubs but for different reasons."

Simkin wouldn't be drawn on naming any potential players that have emerged from the games, although it is pretty certain Bell must be one that caught the eye.

He did however explain how fitness is such a key especially to trialists looking for clubs.

"All of our lads have come back very fit, most have been training regularly through the close season so it's a case of just topping up when you are back in pre-season.

"For trialists it is a difficult situation as you need to impress very quickly, and we as coaches have to make allowances for that. However you need to be fit, and unfortunately at Bridport on a hot day it was obvious the level of fitness for many were poor."

Simkin was pleased however that close season signing Ben Dickinson came through 90 minutes at Bridport having only trained for 20 minutes so far before tweaking his ankle.

Ben had no adverse reaction, and considering the situation where he had no service in the second half, he worked really hard and showed his class at times. He's a quality player."
